

MINERS DISCOVER RICHES IN CANYON

Britain CURZON IN LEAD AS CHOICE

King George Waits Word
From Conservative Party Leaders

LABOR VICTORY MAY RESULT FROM CHANGE

Workers Sitting Quietly Back and Saying Nothing

BY LLOYD ALLEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, May 21.—Great Britain sought a leader today.

Political opinion was about equally divided between Marquis Curzon, foreign secretary, and Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, as the man to succeed to the premiership, from which Andrew Bonar Law resigned last night.

King George, who will summon a successor to the Scotch-Canadian premier, who was forced by a critical illness to resign last night, waited at Aldershot for word from the Conservative party leader.

The latter, in whose hands appointment of Bonar Law's successor rests for the moment, hurried to London from vacations in all parts of the British Isles. Meetings began, at which agreement was sought, to obviate the necessity of summoning a party caucus.

A slight opposition was performed on the threat of Andrew Bonar Law today, an official bulletin from the bedside of the premier, who resigned last night, stated today.

Lloyd George Doubtful.
Meanwhile eyes were turned to Lloyd George; politicians asked one another what the former coalition premier would do in the crisis and whether he could turn the Conservative's difficulties in naming a prime minister, to his own advantage.

The Daily Chronicle, Lloyd Georgean organ, says that the Welsh ex-premier's little parliamentary group no longer will support a Conservative premier, as it did Bonar Law. But at the moment Lloyd George has not sufficient parliamentary strength to dictate; he can only throw in his lot with the rapidly strengthening opposition.

To convershrd,i etain un
To Conservatives, the loss of Bonar Law was one of the greatest political blows the party has sustained; the logical successors, Curzon, Baldwin, Balfour, Lord Derby and Austen Chamberlain are at odds.

Curzon Lacks Support

Curzon, most likely choice, cannot count on much support if he is named. Lord Derby will not serve under him; if Baldwin could decline to act as chancellor of the Exchequer, it would leave Curzon in an embarrassing position.

Labor is sitting quietly back and saying nothing; but the passing of Bonar Law marks another big step toward the day, plainly regarded as inevitable, when Britain will have a labor government.

Discover Still In Corona Orange Grove

CORONA, Calif., May 21.—Whiskey fumes proved stronger than that Joe Cardon and Simon Urbino are in jail here today on a charge of manufacturing liquor. Police say they were discovered operating a large 5-gallon still in the center of an orange grove near here after the more pungent odor was sniffed by passers-by.

Britain Seeks Bonar Law Successor

Claims New Engine To Revolutionize Auto Construction

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Development by the Bethlehem Ship Building corporation here of a "baby" Diesel engine, which if developed, will cause a revolution in automobile motor construction, has been announced by Joseph J. Tynan, general manager of the company.
The motor is claimed by Tynan to be able by actual test to propel an automobile 50 miles on a gallon of fuel costing only 2-1/2 cents a gallon. A light oil is used for the fuel.
The motor is of 30-horsepower capacity and works on the full Diesel principle.
Improvement in the method of injection and combustion of the fuel oil constitutes the chief features of the new engine.

4 IN RACE FOR MINN. SENATE POSITION

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 21.—Republicans made a free-for-all fight today for the race for the seat of the late Senator Knute Nelson as the special election approached as a test of national sentiment.

Governor J. A. O. Prues, long groomed by Senator Nelson to fill his shoes, faced a bitter struggle.
As soon as it became known that President Harding favored this succession, opposition developed.

Congressman Sidney Anderson was the first to rebel. He announced his candidacy today.

Judge Oscar Hallam, Progressive Republican, immediately resigned as supreme court justice to enter the race. His resignation will take effect Friday.

Congressman Thomas D. Schall, Minneapolis, has already announced himself a candidate. Governor Prues will file in a day or two. There will be three party nominations at the special primary June 18—a Republican demand farmer-laborer.

The Democratic state central committee will meet Tuesday. Farmer-Labor party leaders will meet later in the week.

Charles A. Lindbergh, former congressman, is the only candidate so far, for farmer-laborer nomination. Magnus Johnson, defeated for governor by Governor Prues last November, may become a candidate.

The election will be held July 16.

Pork Prices Reach New Low Level On Chicago Hog Market

CHICAGO, May 21.—Hog prices touched the lowest mark for 1923 on the markets of the country today. Values were well under $8 at the Chicago market and packers bought all hogs 10 to 35c lower than last week. Unusually heavy receipts caused the decline.

PRESS FIGHT ON CHINESE BANDITS

Pekin Now Fears Outlaws Will Execute Prisoners
Tuesday Night

BY RAY G. MARSHALL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PEKIN, May 21.—Fighting continues today around the mountain top where the Chinese bandits have placed their foreign captives, including Americans.

These white men have been prisoners two weeks. The diplomatic corps today, after reviewing the situation, decided to send a new note to the government asking why fighting is permitted to go on, with increasing danger to the lives of the hostages.

It is feared that the outlaws will execute their threat to kill the foreigners Tuesday night unless the troops cease their attacks.
The Chinese authorities have from the beginning opposed yielding and withdrawing the soldiers.
They favor pressing the attacks,
even at the cost of foreign lives.

Sinclair and Cryer Clash as to Speech

LOS ANGELES, May 21.—Upton Sinclair, backed by a delegation of Pasadena citizens, appeared at the office of Mayor Cryer shortly before noon today and demanded the constitutional right of free assemblage at a meeting which Sinclair plans to call on Liberty Hill at the harbor Wednesday night.

A hot argument ensued between Sinclair and Mayor Cryer. Cryer said that Sinclair should be allowed to speak but only on condition there was no evidence of mob spirit which might tend to a breach of the peace.

The upshot of the meeting was that while no positive promise to permit him to speak Wednesday was given, the authorities will be guided "entirely by conditions prevailing at the time of the meeting."

Issuance of Warrant for 'King' Defended

DETROIT, Mich., May 21.— Judge Harry J. Dingeman, who is conducting a "one man" grand jury inquiry of the House of David at St. Joseph, said today the issuance of a misdemeanor warrant against "King" Benjamin Parnell Saturday was a fully justified measure.

"This warrant is not to be regarded as the final outcome of the grand jury investigation," Dingeman said. "It will be of assistance in running down many tips as to the whereabouts of the missing
'king' and in obtaining other incidental information which otherwise would remain outside the scope of the present quiz."

Judge Dingeman leaves tonight for St. Joseph for the resumption Tuesday of the probe.

'Dead Man' Denies Accident Claim, Pays Fine as Drunk

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 21.—
"I've just killed a man," chattered a disheveled motorist, rushing into the police station.
Police drove to the spot where he had left his car and found a crowd gathered bare-headed around a motionless form.
Then the victim's eyes flutter open and he sat up and asked what it was all about. Told he had been in a bad accident, he denied it emphatically, pleaded guilty to intoxication and cheerfully paid a $10 fine.

DECISION TO RETURN TAX IS REVOKED

Reversal of Ruling Will Keep Millions of Dollars in U. S.
Treasury Department

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The treasury department today revoked its decision of two weeks ago exempting from income tax, distribution by corporations of earnings accumulated before March 1, 1913.

The decision had opened the way to refund millions of dollars to corporations that had paid tax on such distributions.
Today's reversal will keep this money in the treasury. No explanation accompanied reversal of the ruling.

RAILWAY CHIEF TO TESTIFY IN LABOR ROW

(By United Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, May 21.—A summons to compel Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, to appear before the United States railroad labor board May 23 and testify in a dispute involving negotiations with employes was ordered issued by the board today—the first time a railroad president had ever been summoned.

The summons was ordered at the request of J. H. Sylvester, vice grand president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks.
Officials of the Pennsylvania had failed to appear at a called hearing to determine whether company unions or A. F. of L. unions represent the majority of clerks in the system.

The board will serve a subpoena on Rea through a United States marshal. Authorization of this service will be asked of a federal court under the transportation act.

N. S. G. W. Convention At Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA, May 21.—
With more than 2000 delegates in attendance, the Native Sons of the Golden West opened its forty-sixth annual convention here today.
An extensive program of events and pleasure trips for the visiting delegates and their families has been arranged. A big Spanish entertainment and a grand ball will be the features of the social events.

U. S. Land Patents To Be Cancelled

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The supreme court today upheld the California circuit court of appeals in the big land fraud suit of the government against Curtis, Collins and Holbrook company. As a result the Federal government can now cancel patents to 21 land tracts, patents to which were secured illegally under the timber and stone act.

The government's suit was filed in 1922 and originally named 79 defendants.

physician of San Francisco and of the car which struck Dr. Noble,

GOVERNMENT TO WAR ON GAMBLERS

Congress Will Be Asked to Act If Injunction
Plea Fails

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, May 21.—The government carried its legal fight against alleged sugar gougers to the supreme court today when a motion was filed appealing from the action of the district court in New York refusing an injunction against the New York Coffee and Sugar exchange. Simultaneously another motion was entered asking that an early date be set for arguments.
There seems little chance that the court will hear arguments before the summer adjournment is taken June 11. The government seeks in the suit to prevent speculation practices which are held chiefly responsible for present exorbitant sugar prices.

BY LAWRENCE MARTIN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Warrants for the arrest of alleged sugar speculators will be issued under indictments for conspiracy, if the government is beaten in the supreme court in its effort to halt the sugar gouge by injunction.

This step will be taken as a part of an effort to demand, once and for all, whether the government, with all its laws and powers, is helpless before a conspiracy to run up prices of the necessities of life.
Every law that seems applicable will be tried. If the gougers cannot be brought to justice under any of them, congress will be asked to make new laws.

May Seek Legislation

The government's motion, filed today in the supreme court, to expedite the sugar case there, was part of this "show down" which President Harding has instructed the department of justice to bring about.

Officials here know now what the outcome will be. The government, they are convinced, must have more power before it can obtain legal sanction of the position that it is a crime or violation of law for speculative traders to juggle prices of foodstuffs.

A request from the administration for a law covering this situation is certain to be made to the next congress, no matter how successful the government may be in the sugar case. The president is convinced that a specific measure of protection against such conditions must be enacted. He will have trouble getting it through congress.

President Fears Results

All the constitutionalists in congress and those who are opposed to more government interference will oppose such a law. The administration will use the sugar boycott
—the only effective means thus far found of combatting the profiteer—as an example of the dangers of leaving the situation as it is. If a buyers' strike can be organized on sugar, and it is right that it should be under the circumstances, Mr. Harding feels it could equally well be organized for less laudable purposes. More dangerous conspiracies than the sugar gouge might be engineered, with a buyers' strike as an agency, to bring about economic and even political disturbances, the president and his advisers fear.

Therefore, while they are going to fight it out with the sugar gougers and try to make it impossible for such conspiracies to succeed in future, they are not going to encourage the boycott or buyers' strike as a principle of American economics or politics.

mates on the U. S. S. Arizona as the hero who saved the lives of four of his comrades when the whale boat in which they were sailing capsized in the heavy seas off the Long Beach channel, was resuscitated today from the effects of a mile swim through the breaking waves for the four sailors who remained clinging to the overturned boat.

MRS. LEEDS IN PLAN TO SUE BANKER

'Other Woman' in Sensational Stillman Case Decides to Break Silence.

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press)
(Copyright in Canada)
NEW YORK, May 21.—Florence Leeds, named as the "other woman" in the sensational Stillman case, is contemplating action against James A.
Stillman for support of her child, Jay, aged 5.
"He cut me adrift a year ago and stopped the allowance of $1500 a month he had provided for the support of my baby since it was born," she explained in an exclusive interview with the United Press.
Mrs. Leeds' decision to break her two-year silence follows publication of a story to the effect that Stillman now is interested in a New York society woman.
Stung by revelation of a secret she, herself, had long known, Mrs. Leeds, who shielded the banker for two years after the suit became public said today she at last had tired of bearing the brunt of what had been for her a "tragedy."

COURT GRANTS CITIZENSHIP TO 10 HERE

Ten persons were admitted to citizenship in the United States, as a result of the examination of 16 applicants, by Superior Judge R.
Y. Williams today.

Of the ten successful applicants, four were from Germany, four from Great Britain, one from Russia, and one was a native of the United States.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davison, Santa Ana were admitted at the same time. Davison is a native of England, and by marrying him, Mrs. Davison lost her citizenship in the United States. Although she is a native-born American, she was compelled to undergo examination as if she had been foreign born.

Those admitted were:
Frankerla Faltermeyer, Anaheim, a native of Germany; George Jackson, Santa Ana, a native of Scotland; William Walter Jones, Olive, a native of Canada; the Rev. Gerald Reese Messias, Santa Ana, a

Women Get Fat Trying To Get Thin Is Claim

CHICAGO, May 21.—American women are getting fatter, trying to get thinner.

More women—especially matrons—are dieting today than ever before, according to Mme. Alla Ripley, modiste.
A dressmaker hears all a woman's troubles and, according to Mme. Ripley, 99.9 per cent of their grief comprises surplus weight, double chins and rolls about the shoulders.
"The flapper figure is the mode even among elderly matrons," said Mme. Ripley.
"We are making more garments for stout women than we ever did.
They are combining scientific dieting with especially designed clothing in an effort to retain the slender figure effect."

Big Crop Loss Feared As Result of Storms

PUEBLO, Colo., May 21.—Wind, district, which may amount to thousands of dollars to farmers in that vicinity, according to reports reaching here today.

The famous Rocky Ford cantaloupe crop is said to have been almost completely destroyed.

SILVERADO SCENE OF STRIKE

Mother Lode Lost More Than 40 Years Ago
Uncovered

BLUENOUGH MILL TO BE ENLARGED, PLAN

Stanley Chapman, Fullerton,
One of Those Interested

"The Bluenough mine has struck it!"

This word comes down from the Silverado canyon.
Reaching the mother lode lost by the Dunlap miners more than forty years ago, and uncovering the same vein of rich ore half a mile away,
the owners of the Bluenough mine,
in Silverado canyon, are planning to enlarge their mill.

They are sure that they have a large body of ore at their command. It is an ore that is rich in silver and lead, with zinc, iron and gold included. The ore is being worked for all five minerals.

In the proving of the Bluenough mine, the ghosts of scores of prospectors, the shades of forlorn hopes, and the dim memories of Carbonade, the mining town that was, are revived.

Activity stirred the Silverado in the 70s. Word that the Dunlap mine workers had uncovered rich ore brought scores of prospectors and mine operators into the canyon. Previous to that time the place had been called Canyon de los Timbros, the Timbros canyon.
Its name was changed to Silverado. The village of Carbonade was established. It had a post office, a justice of the peace and a constable.

Pioneers Lose Fortunes

Fortunes were lost in endeavoring to bring mines into paying condition.
Gradually, the boom died. The mine owners became almost deserted.
Most of the buildings disappeared.

From time to time since then efforts have been made to make the old Bluenough mine what its original owners had hoped it would be.
Last October, the Bluenough Mining company was taken over by a group of Orange county men, with Stanley Chapman, of Fullerton, as the largest individual stockholder.
Ninety per cent of the stock of the company is owned in this county.
Charles Eysenbrod, Anaheim banker, is president of the company.
Stanley Chapman vice-president.
Sam Collins, Fullerton, secretary.
O. H. Pember, Anaheim, superintendent. Stanley Chapman and his cousin, Frank Chapman, have been putting in much of their time at the property. C. C. Chapman, of Mission Valencia orange fame, father of Stanley, has visited the mine often.

Will Enlarge Mill

A well equipped flotation mill has been developed, and ore from the mine has been put through this concentration mill. With the management of the company now feeling certain that a large body of good ore is located in the mountain, the mill is to be enlarged.
The probability, too, as a result of the location of the lode in the bottom of the canyon, is that the vein for the mill will soon be brought from that point instead of being taken from the higher location, as now, brought down a steep incline by tram cars. The company has engineers on the ground this week making plans for future development and handling of the ore.

In early operations of the Dunlap mine, according to tales brought down from that day, a rich ore was struck. The vein pinched out. Shafts were sunk into this vein. Here and there ore was run into. But it was in small quantities. Its character, too, indicated that it was ore from a dike.
The formation so indicated.

Efforts wasted.
The mining that has been done lately indicates that the old-time miners were wasting their efforts always on the false vein when the mother lode was but some 110 feet away.

There are thirty men at work now in the mine and mill of the Bluenough company. The mill is handing about sixty tons of ore a day. Some of the concentrate has been shipped to Selby, near San Francisco, for smelting. No report has been received on the one

ASK ARREST OF 3 YOUTHS FOR DISTURBANCE

Because they claimed that their "girls" had been taken away from them, Merle Henninger, Richard Butler and William Wheeler created a disturbance yesterday at Laguna Beach, according to Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley, who today issued complaints for their arrest on charges of disturbing the peace.

Carl Arosen was the complaining witness. According to his story, he and his brother, and two girls, nurses at the county hospital, were enjoying an outing at Laguna Beach.

The three defendants, approaching from another point on the beach, according to Arosen, berated them for "taking their girls away from them", and threatened to fight. According to the complainant, at least one of the defendants carried a gun and attempted to withdraw it from his pocket during the argument.

Butler was arrested this morning, and deputies were expecting to take the other two into custody later today.

PIGGY WIGGLY HEAD TOLD TO PAY OR QUIT

(By United Press Leased Wire) MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 21.—An ultimatum to Clarence Saunders to square his debts or hand control of Piggly Wiggly over to his creditors was ready today to be served on the grocery king, according to reports here. A representative of the financial pool which backed the recent Piggly Wiggly invasion of Wall street, told the United Press today that failure of Saunders to comply with the requests to discharge his indebtedness, would result in the filing of bankruptcy or receivership proceedings.

Saunders, it was claimed, owes approximately four and a half million dollars, money he borrowed from financial pools in New Orleans, Nashville and St. Louis. Of this amount, the informant said, $300,000 is past due and Saunders has been asked to furnish additional collateral.

The ultimatum, it was said, would demand that Saunders liquidate all of his obligations within the next few days or agree to retire June 1 from the presidency of his chain stores.

Saunders today refused to comment on the situation.

"I don't care what the pool may have in mind," he declared. "I am not worried. It is their move."

GREATER S. A. CLUB TO WRITE OWN ADS

Discontinuance of the service of S. H. Creager in preparation of copy for the series of advertisements being run in a Los Angeles paper was decided on at the weekly luncheon of the Greater Santa Ana club held at St. Ann's at noon today. Creager now has copy in hand for an issue on May 30, and his service with the club will cease with that publication.

A committee consisting of J. P. Baumgartner, Herbert Rankin and L. R. Crawford was appointed to prepare copy for an ad and to submit it to the committee at its meeting next Monday noon. The committee also was requested to make recommendation as to employment of some one to conduct the campaign.

The impression prevailed among the committee today that copy can be prepared locally, at less cost than under the present arrangement.

Baumgartner, Dr. F. W. Slabough and O. H. Barr were appointed a permanent auditing committee. The committee will verify items of cost filed with the board for the first two full page advertisements.

MARRS CHOSEN HEAD OF S. A. GROCERYMEN

W. E. Marrs was elected president, Joseph Hirschner, vice-president, and M. B. Hendricks secretary-treasurer of the Retail Grocers' association of Santa Ana, at a luncheon at James' cafe late today.

Following a stirring address by F. B. Connelly, secretary of the California Retail Grocers' association, the local body voted unanimously to affiliate with the state organization.

Directors elected were F. C. Blauer, L. H. Van Ness and Fred Deardorff. The luncheon was attended by twenty grocerymen of Santa Ana and vicinity.

ADDRESS GIVEN BY DR. WRIGHT AT LUNCHEON

One of the largest groups yet assembled for the Monday luncheon of the Business and Professional Women's club, at St. Ann's Inn, listened with close attention today to a well-prepared paper on Pacific coast writers by Dr. Mary Wright.

Dr. Wright was introduced by Mrs. Martin, chairman of the entertainment committee for the day. Her paper dealt more particularly with those writers who are claimed by California either through birth or adoption. Novelists, historians, poets, biographers and nature writers were all touched upon and a comprehensive survey of celebrities both of the present and of an earlier day, was given in an intimately pleasant way, since Dr. Wright interlarded her theme with brief accounts of personal contact with various writers.

Miss Doris Robbins, president of the club, announced entertainment committees for future meetings, as follows: Miss Nellie Vance Wilson, Miss Floy Donaldson and Miss French for next Monday's meeting; Miss Edna Wurster, Miss Mabel McFadden and Mrs. L. R. Crawford for Monday, June 4; Eleanor Young Elliott, Miss Mary Smart and Mrs. Ruth Taylor Scudder for June 11.

carload that has been sent from the new body of ore that has been discovered within the past few days.

"We are well pleased with the outlook," said Stanley Chapman today. "We believe that we have a good property. We are certain that we have a good-sized body of ore to work on, and the ore is rich in mineral."

To Revive Interest Whether the success that has attended the operations of the Bluelight Mining company will result in prospecting for similar mines in the Santa Ana mountains cannot be told. Those who are familiar with mining history do not hesitate in saying that the proving of the Bluelight mine will result in a widespread interest in the whole Santa Ana range.

SAN DIEGO, May 21.—Hopes that the T-2, the first non-stop coast-to-coast airplane, could be preserved for museum purposes were dashed today when Secretary of War Weeks announced here that, according to army regulations, the monoplane will have to be worn out in service and then scrapped and sold for junk.

Grazing Permits for Ten Years Allowed

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has approved the recommendations of the Forest Service that stockmen who desire to graze cattle and sheep on National Forest ranges be granted ten-year permits, according to District Forester Paul G. Redington of the San Francisco forestry headquarters. This new policy, which doubles the maximum period for which grazing permits are now issued, will go into effect beginning with 1925. The secretary's action was taken from the standpoint of assisting the livestock industry to recover further from the depression of the past few years, and to make it less difficult to secure financial aid to carry on livestock operations.

WOMAN'S PLAN BEFORE DEATH SUIT CRUX

Thirty members of the Yorba family in Northern Orange county were involved in a suit to quiet title, filed in superior court here today.

The argument resulted when Samuel Tuffree, one of the plaintiffs, and heirs to the estate of the late Carolina Pittman, attempted to exchange land which the deceased had left him, for land on which he had built a house.

Officially, the suit was labelled Samuel James Tuffree and Kathleen Peeler Tuffree against Frederick N. Tuffree, Mildred E. Tuffree, Juanita C. Yorba, A. E. Yorba, Nellie A. Lloyd, John O. Tuffree, Mabel L. Tuffree, Henry D. Tuffree, Cora C. Tuffree, Jay Mason, Mrs. M. R. Mason, Zephirine N. Tuffree, Doris May Tuffree, Avis Tuffree, Alonzo E. Yorba Jr., Mildred K. Yorba, K. D. Yorba, Margaret L. Yorba, George G. Yorba, A. R. Yorba, J. H. B. Yorba, Carolina Bancroft, Marion Bancroft, James T. O'Brien, Helen D. O'Brien, John F. O'Brien, and two others whose names were not known.

According to the suit, Mrs. Pittman, mother of the plaintiff, and several other of the defendants, left him a plot of land, described in her will.

It had been her expressed intention to revoke this bequest, and to substitute for it, an adjacent plot, upon which the plaintiff had erected a house, but death intervened before this wish could be carried out.

It was for the purpose of exchanging this land upon which the plaintiffs live, for that left him in the will, that the suit was brought. Several of the defendants were petitioners recently in a plea to the court to permit them to lease property for oil drilling purposes.

Boy Kidnaped From School Is Returned

MEXICO CITY, May 21.—Charles Parmalee Jr., kidnaped son of former Los Angeles residents, was returned today in circumstances as mysterious as his disappearance.

Parmalee sr., and his divorced wife, who had the custody of the child, have been reconciled and all suits and counter-suits between them have been withdrawn. It is learned reliably. After the former wife had cancelled her action, the father succeeded in producing the child, it is said.

The boy was kidnaped from a child's school here several weeks ago and widespread search, in which airplanes were used by the frantic mother, failed to reveal the slightest trace of his whereabouts.

Ohio 'Poison Hooch' Law Goes Into Effect

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 21.—Ohio's "poison hooch" law went into effect today.

The sale or gift of liquor with sufficient "kick" that it causes the death to the imbiber, for the first time is punishable as second degree murder. In addition to the murder penalty, the act also provides a penitentiary sentence for illicit operation of a liquor still, a $2,000 fine for soliciting orders for intoxicants and prohibits trial judges from modifying fines or suspending sentences.

Quashing of L. A. Suit on Power Co. Upheld

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The supreme court today refused to review action of the California circuit court of appeals dismissing the suit of the city of Los Angeles, brought in an effort to get a tract of land held by the Southern Sierras Power company. The land was needed by the city to complete the $50,000 aqueduct project.

The trial court ordered the land condemned and turned over to the city for $525,000 but the circuit court reversed, and dismissed the suit. The tract contains 320 acres and is near Long Valley reservoirs.

Shot In December and Again In May; Is Alive

DUNCAN, Okla., May 21.—While still crippled as the result of being shot December 5, T. H. Ryne, former sheriff of Stephens county, was probably fatally wounded today by Bob Calmes.

Ryne, walking with the aid of crutches, was shot three times by Calmes, in the Stephens county court house. Calmes was freed under bond pending the outcome of Ryne's wounds from the first shooting. No reason for either shooting was given by Calmes, who gave himself up following the shooting today.

The bag was taken from an automobile at the park, she believed.

HATCHET DEATH SUSPECT IS RELEASED

The murder charge against Fred Casalicchio charged with killing Nunzio Spampinato with a hatchet, near Buena Park, April 1, was dismissed by Justice J. B. Cox today on motion of District Attorney A. P. Nelson.

"Furtherance of justice" was the reason given, although it was stated that an insufficiency of evidence against the suspect was the real cause of the dismissal.

Similar charges against John Scaglino, arrested at Los Angeles Saturday, were not dismissed. Spampinato, a bootlegger, asserted dope peddler and blackhand gunman, was found, his body mutilated by a father's hatchet, in an arroyo near Northam Station.

Subsequent investigations resulted in the arrest of the two men who were held, but sufficient proof was not available, according to Sheriff Sam Jernigan, and the release was ordered.

It was understood that with the release of Scaglino, which was expected shortly, the investigation would be dropped.

POSTOFFICE CLOSING BECAUSE OF NO HEAT

BEAVER, Pa., May 21.—Patrons at the local postoffice during the recent period "of cold weather found the following sign posted on the stamp window: "Office closed; no heat. Landlord at fault; no coal." Patrons who rent lock-boxes were given access to the lobby of the office, but no other business was transacted during the day. Under the terms of the government contract the owner of the building is required to supply heat, the postmaster says.

WANDERER FIGHTS FOR BIG FORTUNE

DETROIT, May 21.—Whether the change reading of a newspaper, in a freight house in Milwaukee will get Luke Nolan of that city $75,000, probate court will decide. Nolan filed a petition to set aside the will of John E. Mohan, leaving his estate, consisting of realty worth $75,000 and $1000 personal property, to the St. Francis Home for Orphan Boys. Nolan, a cousin of Mohan, asserts at the time the will was made the latter did not know he had relatives living.

PRESBYTERIANS IN BRYAN DRY PLEDGE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 21.—Action of the bills and overtures committee of the Presbyterian general assembly on the Fosdick case was awaited with anxiety among all commissioners to the convocation today.

There was a general desire to get the question settled by both the liberals, who will strenuously oppose any drastic action against Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of New York City and the ultra-conservatives, who wished to see him "properly censured for his utterances."

William Jennings Bryan, conservative leader, brought thousands to their feet when he denounced the "commercialization of the Sabbath by men greedy for gold."

The meeting unanimously approved a resolution presented by Bryan in the morning that every Presbyterian minister and student and teachers in the secretariat schools take a pledge of total abstinence.

MEXICAN DINNER PAIL NOW IS NEARLY FULL

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Mexico will help her sister republic to the north in any sugar crisis that may arise. The production is 150,000 tons yearly, a large part of which is available for export. This amount put Mexico in seventh place among sugar-raising nations. As a side line, the sugar mills produce alcohol, wines, pulque and beer. Edibles are far ahead of liquids, however, and the dinner pail of the Mexican laborer is more nearly full than the oldest of them can remember.

you—if you have tried everything under the sun to get well, then I want you to know that there is hope for you in Chiropractic—THE BETTER WAY TO

In looking back over your

of strength in mind and body?

Ponder over what perfect health would have meant to you in the years gone by, then picture what the future may have in store for you, if you will only lay aside all prejudice and investigate Chiropractic—THE BETTER WAY TO HEALTH.

I want to get mutually acquainted—I want to listen to your story, the history of your efforts to get well, then tell you about this way to better health and give you my honest opinion as to what it may be expected to do for you. Consultation is free and places you

WEEDS MUST BE CLEARED FROM CITY LOTS

Weedless vacant lots will soon be the rule in Santa Ana, it was indicated today when Z. B. West jr., city attorney, announced that preparations were being made by the city council to invoke a state law to force the cleaning of lots.
West expects to ask the city council tonight to authorize the street superintendent and fire chief to provide him with the legal description and street location of lots that should be cleared of weeds.

Owners Given 20 Days
West will present to the council tonight or next Monday evening a resolution declaring the intention of the board to force the clearing of weeds on lots where a fire hazard is created.

It was pointed out today by West that weed fires have been responsible for three fire alarms since the first of the present month.

In the legal proceedings property owners will be given twenty days in which to clean their lots after the lots have been legally and officially posted, West said.
Failure of owners to have the work done will result in the city employing men to clean the property, the charges being assessed against the lots in the form of taxes. West said the cost under this procedure will be greater than if the individual owners should have the work done. He pointed out that advertising and other costs incident to the legal proceedings will increase the expense when the cleaning is done by city employees.

EIGHTH GRADE
AVERAGES
FIXED

Advance information of necessary credits to be gained by eighth grade pupils of Orange county grammar schools in order to graduate was given out today by R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent.
"A general average of 55 per cent, with an average of 60 per cent in grammar, geography, arithmetic and history," Mitchell said,
"will be demanded of the pupil in order to graduate, in accordance with tentative plans made by the county board of education at a meeting held here Saturday."

Superintendent Mitchell explained that teachers' recommendations would be considered in all cases.

"The board held," he said, "that an average of 60 per cent should be gained in each of the four major studies.

Attainment of a general average of 55 per cent, which by virtue of the higher grade in the four studies designated would allow a little leeway in other school work of the pupil, was considered a good standard for graduation.

"Final decision in the matter probably will be made by the board at a meeting to be held here next Saturday when examination papers of the prospective graduates will be reviewed."

COUNTY SOLONS WILL INSPECT FLOOD WORK

It was expected today that the board of supervisors at its meeting tomorrow will arrange for one or more members to attend a meeting of the Tri-Counties Reforestation committee to be held at Barton Flats in the San Bernardino mountains, Thursday.

It was announced here today that the meeting primarily is for the purpose of inspecting the flood control work being done for the counties of Orange, San Bernardino and Riverside under the supervision of George S. Hinkley, engineer of Redlands.

G. W. Sherwood, of Fullerton, and S. H. Finley, of Santa Ana, the latter a member of the board of supervisors, are expected to be present.

According to Francis Tuttle, chairman of the committee, all who are interested are cordially invited to attend the meeting. Finley or Sherwood can give information as to the program, it was said.

For those who may go direct, it was stated that the party will leave the Mill Creek control at 11 a. m. It is expected, however, that most of those going will assemble at the office of the Riverside Water company, at Riverside. Departure from there will be at 9 a. m. Those who go should take their own lunches. Coffee will be provided by the committee.

BOYS FIGHT DUEL

DANVILLE, Ill., May 21.—Tony Novitsky, 13, and Michael Golins, 16, romancers from Chicago, ended their quest for adventure here following a duel to see which of the two youthful "heroes" would marry the heroine. Tony and Michael, with Dorothy Wasserman, 16, were brought to the police station as runaways after they had "shot out" the dispute at a park, the police said. The trio started out from Chicago for a career that included a "holdup of Danville" Sunday, according to the story authorities assert they obtained from the trio. The two boys had pistols. Dorothy was to have been their "inspiration" and heroine. While the two were in the park learning to use their weapons, they quarreled over the girl.

Honeymooners' Return Greeted By Dinner

One of the pleasantest of the end of the week affairs centering at St. Ann's Inn was the 6:30 dinner presented by Mr. and Mrs. Emil Teigen of Manitowoc, Wisconsin, winter guests in Los Angeles, who thus honored their new son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen have just returned from an extended wedding trip through the extreme east and south and will make their home now in Los Angeles although Mrs. Allen's parents, the Teigens, will return to their Wisconsin home the latter part of this month.

The table was laden with spring flowers for the serving of the delicious course dinner, and attractive cards indicated places for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Teigen, the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Allen of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Berlyn Hall, Mr. Lyman J. Hall, Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. William M. Gregg, Miss Marie Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Kittle, Mrs. Remus Koenig and Master Remus Koenig, Mrs. Irma Scove and Master Robert Scove all of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. August Schuetz of Manitowoc, parents of Mrs. Scove who have been winter visitors in this city.

Franklin Principal Entertains Her Staff

Centered with a beautiful bowl filled with yellow daisies and blue cornflowers, the dinner table at the home of Miss Lottie Sweet, principal of Franklin school, presented an attractive appearance Saturday night when Miss Sweet entertained the members of the teaching staff at the school.

The same lovely color scheme was noted in the dainty cards marking places for the guests and in the nut cups and other table appointments where the delectable four-course dinner was served.

In the evening, guests found entertainment in examining the collection of Indian relics brought by the hostess from Mexico and New Mexico. Amusing life histories of those present were compiled also and added hilarity to the pleasant evening.

Assisting Miss Sweet were her mother, Mrs. Susan Sweet and her sister, Miss Alma Sweet. The guests present were the Misses Sadie McConaughty, Edna Copeland, Gale Shelton, Natalie Robinson, Marguerite Williams and Hazel McFarland.

Pupil Recital At Gustlin Home

Presenting both juvenile and advanced pupils, Mr. Clarence A. Gustlin and his student-assistant, Miss Elizabeth Parslow entertained with a most enjoyable pupil recital Saturday afternoon at the Gustlin home, 816 North Main street.

Parents and friends of the young people formed an interested audience which listened with close attention to an informal introductory talk by Mr. Gustlin on the purpose of such recitals and the value to pupils of playing before others, thus inspiring them with confidence and mastery.

All work was presented from memory and the playing showed the appreciation of expression demands, tonal qualities and technical proficiency on the part of the young people. Outstanding features of the recital proved to be the playing by Miss Parslow, of the Beethoven Sonata, Opus 31, No. 3 and of McDowell's Concert Study, which brought the program to a close. Other admirable numbers were the Adagio movement from Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" and "Witches' Dance" by McDowell, played by Mr. Russell Rowland. These two numbers have been chosen for the county high school contest.

Other composers featured on the program were Chopin, Schumann, Schubert, Clementi, Grieg, Glere, Karganoff, Kullak, Bachmann, Godard, Berge and Backer-Graendahl.

Students appearing were the Misses Elizabeth Parslow, Marion Gerard, Lillian Hurwitz, Ethel Karp, Virginia Bailey, Mary and Marian Bruner, Lillian Napier, Rose Marie Smith, Opha Coulson, Martha Spaulding, Helen O'Brien, Martha Kelsey, Helen Heil, Helen Greer; also Messrs. Dolph Kelsey, Russell Rowland, Jack and Robert Lilly and Cecil Horowitz. Punch and wafers were served by Mrs. Gustlin following the program.

Mr. Gustlin will present other pupils in an entire change of program next Saturday afternoon before parents and friends of those who participate.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., May 21.—Two complaints filed against former County Treasurer S. M. Souder, charging him twenty-eight counts, with embezzlement of $14,031.19 of moneys belonging to Lincoln county and Drainage District No. 1. He was arrested and bond fixed at $25,000.

Complaints were filed after conferences between Deputy Fire Marshal L. J. Butler, Sheriff L. L. Berthe, County Attorney Wells C. Jones and Assistants William E. Shuman and George N. Gibbs, who are investigating Lincoln county's affairs. Evidence, it is alleged, was obtained among papers found in burned remains of the old courthouse, in bank records, and various other sources.

TOWN'S BAD BOY

ATTLESBORO, Mass., May 21.—Ernest Dufrey, 16, of North Attleboro, claims to be the "toughest guy in New England." He was so tough he pushed his fist through three panes of glass in an office where girls are employed, an act which, he said, he committed to substantiate the claim. Dufrey was sentenced to the industrial school for boys at Shirley by Judge Charles C. Keegan, on juvenile court.

About Retailers—the Growing Mass and the Dwindling Class

Goods which are well advertised nationally by the manufacturer are largely sold to the public before they ever reach the retailer.

Goods which are not advertised by the producer must be sold by the retailer.

In the one case, the manufacturer has done a great part of the job; in the other he has left it all for the dealer to do.

For many articles, national advertising creates an actual demand, so that all the dealer need do is to say, "You can buy it here." In other lines the advertising identifies the product in the possible buyer's mind, arouses his interest in it and establishes his confidence in the maker, upon which the dealer can cash in by his own selling efforts.

But with unadvertised goods, the retailer must start from scratch.

Retailers who favor nationally advertised lines believe in selling what the public wants. They are a growing mass.

Retailers who favor unadvertised lines believe in selling what they want the public to buy. They are a dwindling class.

The ranks of these latter retailers are rapidly growing smaller because most of them are learning that public confidence is the basis of successful selling; that quick turnover is a shorter and surer road to profit than long discounts on slow-moving, dust-gathering goods; that even those customers who appear to swallow their selling talk on unadvertised merchandise have a discouraging way of not coming back for more.

Just the other day a paint and varnish dealer in California wrote to a manufacturer in the Middle West whose name is known through national advertising wherever varnish is used, "We are discontinuing our other lines and hereafter will center our efforts upon (mentioning the name of the maker's product) because the demand is for it."

About the same time a printer in a northern Ohio city was telling his paper jobber that thereafter he intended to standardize on a certain nationally advertised make of bond paper because "everybody knows it, and it is so easy to sell."

And a druggist who carries packaged chocolates stated that he stocked only the nationally known makes, with the exception of one make well known locally, because all he had to do was hand out what the customer asked for and take the money.

Ten years ago—yes, even five—the manufacturer's salesman who went around to the trade and talked about his firm's national advertising was likely to be met with the statement that it would be a lot better if his concern took the money it was putting into advertising and used it to enlarge discounts to the trade.

Today, the fact that he is a real national advertiser is a tremendous asset with the trade to any manufacturer, and his salesman's portfolio of advertising is as important as—very frequently more important than—his sample case.

Festivities Arranged To Entertain Guests At Richards Home

Amusingly worded invitations precluded all chance for formality at the big barbecue with which Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Richardson entertained nearly one hundred and fifty of their friends Saturday afternoon at their Victorville home, for the invitations were issued in the names of "Big Rich and the Widow Smith" and sounded the keynote of merriment and festivity which characterized the entire affair.

At 4 o'clock that afternoon, the guests who had gathered from Riverside, San Bernardino, Redlands and other points in addition to Orange county, were seated at tables on the Richardson lawn where the best barbecued meat ever eaten, was served with beans, salad, pickles, hot rolls, coffee, pie and cheese. Boy Scouts formed exceedingly neat lines and were as highly complimented upon their ability to serve as was Mr. Richardson upon his carving.

Just after the guests were seated, the host greeted them in a friendly little talk, given from the veranda overlooking the scene. The dinner was followed by other lively talks by different members of the party and in the evening, the presence of an excellent orchestra offered inducement to dance. Two great rooms of the home were thrown open thus providing ample space for the party.

Dancing continued until early morning hour when the party broke up and Orange county folk returned home in a driving hail storm, claimed to have been arranged by their hosts, thus adding to the unique features of the delightful affair.

Among those present from this vicinity were Mrs. and Mrs. Arthur Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. Parke Roper, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Yarnell, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Mit Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. John Tubbs, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Porter of Orange, Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. Grant Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Goepfer, Mrs. Beckwith, and J. P. Greeley of Balboa, Mrs. Jennie Spurgeon, Mr. and Mrs. Keller Watson and son of Orange, Mr. and Mrs. John Wall of Los Angeles.

Over thirty Neighbors of Woodcraft gathered at M. W. A. hall Saturday night to enjoy a social evening following a brief business session.

Five hundred offered entertainment for those who cared to play while other entertaining games were enjoyed in a merry circle. Red, green and white predominated in the decorations, and suggested the lodge colors.

Tables centered with floral decorations in the chosen colors were used to serve appetizing refreshments of strawberries and cream, doughnuts and coffee.

The clever little socks which accompanied invitations to the affair, were returned in quantity, each one filled with pennies in response to the rhymed suggestion that the stocking size be doubled and that number of pennies be placed in the sock.

Much interest was manifested in the Neighbors of Woodcraft convention to be held at Riverside May 21, 22 and 23. Mrs. Nettie McBride and Mrs. Isabelle Gipsen were named as delegates and are now in that city for the sessions which promise to be of great interest.

Roses and Ferns Deck Collins Home For High Noon Wedding

With over thirty members of their two families as guests, Miss Orlafern Collins and Mr. Edward J. Martin yesterday took their wedding vows before the Rev. F. T. Porter at an impressively beautiful ceremony.

The home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Collins at 315 French street was transformed into a floral bower for the nuptials with white roses and plumosa ferns used in great profusion. Promptly at high noon, the bride and groom took their places beneath a rose bower arranged in the archway between the living rooms where the marriage lines were read by the Rev. Mr. Porter.

Miss Collins was lovely in a frock of softest white Canton crepe, lace trimmed. Her arms were filled with bride's roses and maiden hair fern tied with bow and flowing ends of white tulle. Immediately after the ceremony, guests were ushered to the dining room where the brides table was centered with a beautiful arrangement of Cecil Brunner buds and feathery sprays of fern in basket effect. A towering cake fifteen inches in diameter also graced the table and was cut by the bride, to be served at the close of the elaborate four course dinner menu.

In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Martin left in a shower of rice and rose petals for their honeymoon motor trip. Mrs. Martin traveling in a small little brown Canton crepe frock with cloak and hat to harmonize.

Upon their return they will make their home in this city where Mr. Martin, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Martin of New Hope, is a mechanic with George Calhoun.

The bride as Miss Collins was educated in the schools of Denver and has made her home in this city for the past three years where she is very popular among the members of her circle.

Dread Kidnappers In Sacred Precincts Of Orange County Park

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Walker of 919 East Chestnut street little suspected that kidnappers were in their midst Saturday afternoon, but such was the state of affairs and Mr. and Mrs. Walker as innocent victims, were lured to Orange county park, there to be held in duration vile and forced to partake of such unpalatable fare as a steak bake with its accompanying dishes.

To make the occasion still more heart-rending, it chanced that the day was one of peculiarly important associations in the annals of the Walker family as it not only marked the anniversary of Mrs. Walker's birth but was also their tin wedding day.

Forced to eat from tin dishes with tin spoons, knives and forks, the brave couple retained sufficient presence of mind to do exactly as their captors commanded and when Mrs. Walker was ordered to cut a great cake, glowing with candles, she bravely made the attempt, only to be laughed at by her cruel captors when the cake proved to be a large tin pan carefully iced over. As though their hard hearts were touched by her predicament, the kidnappers removed the tin to disclose a true cake underneath, cleverly decorated with tin foil flowers.

By according to all requests of their captors, eating the rude food prepared in the open, playing the rough games planned and trying to be content and unafraid amid the terrifying wild surroundings of the secluded spot, the victims were finally allowed to go scot-free and late that night were brought back to their home in safety.

They were brave enough to take steps to learn the identity of their captors and a list of the desperate band includes Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Alleman, Mr. and Mrs. F. Bushard of Tustin, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Brown, Mrs. Mary E. Crane, Miss Maggie May Moore, Miss Isabel Brown, Norman Franklin and even a group of like children including Herbert and Mary Lucille Walker, Aldon and Victor Alleman, Winifred and Emily Bushard and James Brown.

Household Economics

On Friday the last business meeting of Ebells' sixth section Household Economics before vacation, was held at the home of Mrs. A. M. Gardner with Mmes. C. C. Langley, Charles Caruthers and Hervey T. Trueblood as associate hostesses. After the sewing for the day nursery was completed, the members were seated at one large table gay with crystal baskets of Cecil Brunner buds, for the enjoyment of the three course luncheon.

This section will furnish 500 eggs for the Lions' lunch boxes on next Friday, thereby helping the ways and means committee to swell the club house fund. It was also voted to continue for another year the active membership in the California Conference of Social Work which will hold its fifteenth annual meeting in Yosemite next month.

Mrs. H. M. Samsis was elected leader and Mrs. F. W. Wieseman secretary to take the place of Mrs. S. M. Davis and Mrs. H. T. Trueblood who resigned.

"Dietetics" was the subject of the afternoon program. Mrs. S. M. Davis read many helpful extracts from authorities on foods and menus and Mrs. Neal Beisel gave an interesting paper along the line of diet for the young child and growing children. Many points were brought out which occasioned discussion and added to the interest and helpfulness of the program.

Mrs. P. A. Robinson graciously invited the members and their husbands to her cottage at Newport Beach for the next meeting which will be the annual picnic. Members present were Mmes. J. P. Baumgartner, George Balderston, Neal Beisel, G. E. Bruns, S. M. Davis, John Clarkson, J. E. Gowen, F. J. Jayne, J. W. McCormac, J. G. Quick, F. Robinson, H. M. Samsis, W. H. Smith, F. W. Wieseman, Misses Lida Crookshank, Margaret Orr and Ada O'Brien; also Mrs. Keith of Minneapolis with Mrs. Davis.

THIRD SECTION. The final one of the year's three luncheons enjoyed by Ebells Third Travel section will be held Friday, May 25, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Sprague, 912 North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Tedford Announce Betrothal Of Their Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Tedford announced the engagement of their daughter, Marguerite, to Mr. Nelson Toplin Nowell of Honolulu, at a tea which Mrs. Tedford gave Saturday at her home on North Broadway. The honored guest of the afternoon was Mrs. Alan M. Nowell, Mr. Nowell's mother, who is visiting in the Tedford home.

The house was gay with flowers from the gardens of many friends, offerings for the glad occasion. Mrs. A. J. Crookshank and Mrs. J. D. Thomas presided at the tea table, and a flock of pretty girls in summer frocks served the refreshments.

Mr. Nowell is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan M. Nowell, a family prominent in the business and social circles of Honolulu. He received his education at a preparatory school in Massachusetts and at Stanford University, where he is a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity. Miss Tedford was born, raised and educated in Santa Ana. Her grandfather was one of the earliest settlers of Orange county. Family Group Aids Celebration Of Tin Wedding Day

The tenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Faccou offered opportunity for a happy planned affair given Saturday night at their home, 1128 West Fourth street when members of the family gathered for a celebration.

The anniversary was recognized by a cleverly planned shower of small surprise gifts, each of which was tied to a red cord. When the cord was slowly drawn from a covered box, one funny little tin article after another was added to Mrs. Faccou's collection until she was overwhelmed with knives, forks and spoons, little tin dishes and other toys.

A lovely gift in recognition of the day was that of a jardenerie containing a fine fern which was given by Mrs. Faccou's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lykke and her brother and sisters and which will find place in the new home which the Faccous are completing on West Fourth street.

Cards offered entertainment during the social evening and at a late hour, ice cream and coffee were served.

Offering congratulations and wishes for many more happy anniversaries to Mr. and Mrs. Faccou were Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lykke, Mr. and Mrs. Machias Faccou, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Merker, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lykke, Mr. and Mrs. Soren Sorensen and children, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sorensen, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Faccou and children, Miss Lillian Lykke, Miss Nora Lykke, Harland Faccou, Armand Faccou and Carl Lykke.

CAPITAL MAKES BIG PLANS FOR SHRINERS

WASHINGTON, May 21.—"Park your camel with your Uncle Sam!"

With this slogan as its inspiration, and with "Mecca" as its goal, the greatest pilgrimage ever witnessed in America is now under way.

All roads are leading into Washington, where, in the first week of June the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will open what is heralded as the most stupendous fraternal gathering and convention ever undertaken.

Every railroad, steamship line and highway taxed to the limit of its capacity, five hundred thousand people will have trooped into the nation's capital by May 30 to aid the Shriners in turning Washington into the "playground of Masonry."

The people of the city have buried all racial and religious prejudices and have solidly united behind the movement to make this year's gathering of the Shrine the greatest and best in the order's history. Despite the fact that the convention will exactly double Washington's population, so efficiently have arrangements been handled that assurance has been given every visitor he will be comfortably cared for.

Washington has undergone a complete transformation in the past two weeks. Instead of the dignity and stateliness of the seat of national government the city now presents the combined impressiveness and revelry of Egypt and ancient Baghdad. Pyramids, sphinxes, minarets and obelisks greet the visitor on every side. Camels and fantastic caravans fill the streets, and on every side may be seen the gorgeous raiment which only the Shriners affect.

City Gaily Decked
Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been expended to turn the city into a veritable "garden of Allah." The famous illuminative decoration employed at the Buenos Aires exposition, recently closed, has been transported to Washington, and historic Pennsylvania avenue, down which has passed every President of the United States, at night now outshines Coney Island for sheer brilliancy. The "split necklace" method of illumination is being used, and suspended over the 12 blocks between the capitol at the one end and the treasury at the other are 62 of these "necklaces," each containing thousands of multi-colored lights, centered with a huge "sunburst."

Lafayette square, directly across from the White House, presents the most pretentious scene. This area has been converted into the "Garden of Allah." All trace of modernity has been removed and in its place is a magic oasis. The statues of General Lafayette, General Andrew Jackson, Baron von Steuben, Rochambeau and Kosciuszko, which grace the center and four corners of the square, have been buried beneath huge pyramids. The Sphinx is casting her enigmatic glances at the entrance to the executive mansion, while around her are scattered Egyptian columns and minarets. The whole is lighted by incandescent flood lights, while stretched across the streets between the square and the court of honor, wherein the president and his distinguished guests will view the ceremonies, are five of the largest of the "split" necklaces.

Expect Half Million
It is conservatively estimated, on the basis of last year's meeting at San Francisco, at which 500,000 attended, that Washington will harbor 500,000 visitors. Shriners and their families to the number of 150,000 have signified their coming, and past conventions have shown the ratio of visitors and Shriners to be three and one-half to one. The stupendous job of feeding and housing once again the entire population of the city for a period of 10 days already has been met, and the various committees have announced that all will be cared for.

The district Shriners have prepared a program which for spectacular effect and novelty has never before been equaled. Just a few of the events which thus far have been disclosed include:

The largest and most unusual parade which has ever passed down Pennsylvania avenue.

A "Congress of the Seas," which will turn the Potomac river into a magnificent aquatic playground. A four-day aerial circus, participated in by the army, navy, post-office department and weather bu-

POLY, FULLERTON IN SERIES TOMORROW

The Santa Ana high school baseball team today was spending its last day of grace before meeting the Fullerton high school aggregation at Fullerton tomorrow afternoon in the first game of the series for the Orange league championship.

The Poly team, due to its victory over "Shorty" Smith's henchmen in the first league tilt, will enter the big series needing but a win tomorrow to clinch the title and the right to battle some Southern California nine Saturday in the semi-finals for the Southland championship.

Roy ("Barney") Le Bard, the Santa Ana heaver who held Whittier to three hits here last Friday and then won his own game by homing over the left field fence, will be on the slab for Santa Ana. Ted Coifman will do the catching.

Santa Ana won its first melee from Fullerton 10 to 3.

rean, which, in the matter of stunt flying, freak exhibitions, etc., will outdo anything ever witnessed in the field of aviation.

Sea of Fire
An illuminated night parade, which is predicted to turn the avenue into a "sea of fire."

The greatest display of fireworks ever attempted.

A huge pageant depicting the evolution of the United States.

A "Dance of the States," in which 20 blocks of Pennsylvania avenue will be turned into a dance floor.

A "Mile of Song," in which 200,000 people will join in the singing.

Other features, press-agented as far more spectacular than any of the foregoing, likewise are in the process of completion, but there, it is said, are to be kept as surprises.

While Shrine week will formally open Sunday, June 3, and run through until midnight of Thursday, June 8, virtually all who will be present are expected to arrive by May 26, and plans are on foot for a Decoration day celebration which will surpass anything previously held.

Dr. Florenz Ziegfeld, Noted Musician, Dead

CHICAGO, May 21.—The funeral of Dr. Florenz Ziegfeld, 82, noted musician, who died yesterday, will be held from the home here tomorrow with famous men of American musical circles as honorary pall bearers.

Dr. Ziegfeld, a friend of Wagner, Rubenstein, Liszt and other noted composers, was founder and president emeritus of the Chicago college of music.

All his children, including Florenz Ziegfeld, the Folies producer were at the bedside, when the end came.

CHURCH PROPERTY SELLS FOR $50,000

FULLERTON, May 21.—One of the largest real estate transactions in Fullerton's history was brought to a close when the former Catholic church property at the corner of West Commonwealth and Malden avenues was purchased by Stanley Chapman for approximately $50,000.

The transaction, which has been pending for several weeks, was brought to a successful issue by Lloyd Hulbert of the firm of Bruce and Goodson, and today the documents involving the transfer were placed in escrow at the Farmers and Merchants National bank, and it is expected that within the next few days the necessary arrangements for the transfer of the property to Chapman will have been completed.

Just what improvements will be made by Chapman are not yet announced. It is known, however, that with the completion of the negotiations, that plans will be called for at once to make the corner one of the most attractive in Fullerton and to further extend the business district on West Commonwealth avenue.

CHURCHES DRAW YOUNG PEOPLE RECORDS SHOW

NEW YORK, May 21.—If a person has not joined a church by the time he or she reaches the legal age of 21, the chances are three to one that he will not do so. This is the conclusion reached by Dean Walter Scott Athearn of the Boston University School of Religious Education, after an exhaustive study.

The records of 6,194 persons in forty-three states were tabulated. This is the first authentic study of its kind.

"More people join the Methodist church between their tenth and eleventh birthdays than in any other years of their lives," said Dr. Athearn. "Formerly they were supposed to join at 16 or 17. Thus we have pushed the actual age of joining back about five or six years."

In the Presbyterian church, the children are joining at 13 instead of 15.

In the Presbyterian church, the largest number of people join the church between the ages of 12 and 13. In the Baptist church and in the Church of Disciples, the age of greatest frequency ranges from 11 to 13. The peak of all denominations is between 13 and 14 years.

"The statistics for all five denominations last year show that one-fourth of the persons joining a church were under the age of 11 years, 10 months and 22 days. One-fourth joined after they were 21. One-half, or 50 per cent of the church accessions, were people between the ages of 11 and 21 years."

Earlier studies of this subject published in 1900 showed the peak of greatest frequency to be between 16 and 17 years. These earlier studies have profoundly influenced Sunday school lesson writers. The new data will necessitate the reconstruction of much of the curriculum material now in use, and cause pastors to reconstruct their plans for preparatory membership of classes.

LEGION—LABOR AGREE.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 19.—The American Legion and organized labor have established the most friendly relations in Oregon. A recent bulletin issued by the Central Labor Council urged all eligible laboring men to become members of the legion. This position was taken by the council about three years ago and has been restated on a number of occasions. A few days ago the labor body voted to recommend that affiliated unions require their officers to provide the legion with a list of members who saw service in the World War.

RALPH CONNOR STORY ON WEST END SCREEN

Ralph Connor's immortal tale of the Canadian Rivermen's feud, "The Man from Glengarry," which has been read and enjoyed by millions, has at last been brought to the screen by Ernest Shipman in a production that breathes the very atmosphere of the picturesque lumber camps.

Adapted by Faith Green, all the virile life of the original story has been embodied in the pictured version which now is showing at the West End theater.

No less a wizard than Henry McRae, a Canadian-born son of a real Glengarry lumberman, and a cousin of the departed poet of "Flanders Fields" fame, a director who has won highest praise for painstaking and conscientious effort, goes the credit for transferring to the screen this red-blooded tale of rival rivermen.

Nature has provided the scenery and settings and the big scenes of the picture were actually filmed right in the heart of the Canadian wilds. Realism is the keynote throughout. Realism! It is there, shouting and pounding its presence. Log jams are dynamited before one's eyes; immense logs in countless numbers are seen fighting a frenzied and destructive battle for freedom. Behind them the freshet-goaded rapid throws its yeasty foam high against the stained skies of twilight, thundering its hoarse command and refusing to be bridled.

There is no farce about that maelstrom of gritting, splintering logs and men, leaping wide spans of boiling water as they race the slippery timbers with the current tugging at their ankles—facing danger with grim twist of lip or careless laugh.

"DARK SECRETS" OPENS AT YOST TONIGHT
A most cosmopolitan assemblage is seen in Dorothy Dalton's new production, "Dark Secrets," which comes to the Yost theater tonight. The scene is a gorgeous hotel in Cairo, Egypt, with its picturesque courtyard and terraces, its lilypond and statuary, romantic looking balconies and distant palm trees. This exotic atmosphere is enhanced by the presence of birds of gorgeous plumage and tropical plants and flowers. The scene is rich with the color of interesting costumes and unusual uniforms as contrasted with the conventional garments of the Americans.

In addition to Miss Dalton's party of American tourists are seen English army officers, one of whom, Lord Wellington, is her sweetheart; then there are Arabs in full desert regalia, gay ladies from Spain, Hindus, Egyptians, Mussulmans, Orientals and attaches of various legations.

Small page boys and waiters, barefoot and swarthy of skin, their heads swathed in turbans, dart in and out among the pleasure seekers, performing their duties. Here, too, the sinister Dr. Ali, an Egyptian physician, uses his poisonous influence to gain the confidence of Ruth Rutherford, played by Miss Dalton.

DAY RESIGNS FROM WAR CLAIMS BOARD

(By United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—William R. Day resigned as umpire of the mixed claims commission, named to settle American war claims against Germany. President Harding accepted the resignation.

Day, who resigned from the United States supreme court to become umpire of the commission, presented his resignation in person to the president. He said the vast amount of work facing the commission seemed to him to call for a younger and more vigorous man. Day will return to his home in Ohio.

His resignation is likely to delay somewhat the adjudication of American claims, which total $1,479,064,313, according to a report just filed with the state department.

Edward P. Parker of Texas, the American member of the claims commission, will be named umpire, it was indicated at the White House.

This will require selection of another in Parker's place as member.

The German member is Dr. Wilhelm Kisselbach.

DREAM HUNCH NETS $25,000 ON RACES

BELFAST, May 21.—Dan Fitzpatrick, like all true Irishmen, believes in dreams.

So when he dreamed that White Bud would win the Lincoln handicap and Sergeant Murphy would romp in a winner of the Grand National he backed his dream with his coin.

Twenty-five dollars was all the money he could scrape up, but he "shot the works" on White Bud. That charming "blossom" won and her price was 66 to 1. The first half of his dream had netted Fitzpatrick about $1050.

Still riding his hunch Fitzpatrick stuck all of his winnings on White Bud on Sergeant Murphy to win the Grand National. The gallant sergeant turned the trick at the good old Bryanite ratio of 16 to 1.

When Fitzpatrick totaled up his winnings he had more than $25,000, and no one in the world can tell him dreams never come true.

BREA, May 21.—Sunday morning was visitor's day in the Primary department of the Christian church in honor of the mothers. Dainty invitations were sent each mother to which a number responded. CONDUCTOR GIVEN $50,000 DAMAGES

BOULDER, Colo., May 21.—R. F. Jones, railway conductor, was awarded $50,000 damages against the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen here following a trial of three weeks. Jones had sued for $200,000.

In his suit, he alleged the railway unions had acted to get him discharged from the Colorado and Southern railway eight years ago and had prevented him from getting regular employment since that time. Attorneys for the unions announced they would appeal.

Jones will seek a permanent injunction from the court forbidding the unions from preventing him from getting a job with any railway company.

The case had been watched with interest by labor organizations.

JOURNALISM HEAD LAUDS SPORT PAGE

CHICAGO, May 21.—The sport pages of newspapers are written in a style fresh with the invigorating English of the playfields of America, whereas, the ordinary news story, such as appears on the front pages, has become less literary than it used to be, in the opinion of Prof. H. F. Harrington, director of the Medill school of journalism at Northwestern university.

"The average news story has become standardized, its style being dictated largely by policy and space and the need for hurry. This, however, is not true of the sport page, where the story must be first interesting. Accuracy is, of course, essential here, as on the news pages, but the sport writer is allowed more latitude and can bring in his personal 'slants,'" Professor Harrington declared.

News writing, Professor Harrington said, is a most excellent training for the budding novelist.

WILL RESTATE COMMON LAW IN AMERICA

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The gift of the income from more than a million dollars, to continue for ten years, payable to the American Law Institute, to aid that organization in its ambitious project of restating the common law, has excited much favorable comment among educators and legal light in the Nation's Capital.

It is explained that thirty of the foremost lawyers of the country, under the leadership of Elihu Root, last May formed a committee to investigate the causes of the law's uncertainties and unnecessary complications and the possibility of establishing a permanent organization to fulfill the public obligation of the profession to promote the administration of justice, especially the clarity and simplicity of the law.

After months of research and discussion the committee issued a report, urging the establishment of a law institute, the first and most important work of the institute to be the restatement of the law.

On February 23 last, this report and its recommendations were considered in Washington at the most notable gathering of the members of the legal profession ever held in this country. Those present included the chief justice and members of the Supreme Court of the United States, many other members of the higher federal judiciary, twenty-one state chief justices, representatives of all the principal bar associations in the United States, the faculties of all the leading law schools, and about two hundred other leading members of the bar specially invited.

The Washington meeting created and directed the incorporation of the American Law Institute, which will now, with these funds, begin the most far-reaching legal reform ever attempted.

The officers of the institute are Elihu Root, honorary president; Benjamin N. Cardozo, vice-president; and George Welwood, Murray, treasurer. The affairs of the institute are managed by a council of the leading lawyers and judges of the United States.

William Draper Lewis, of the law school of the University of Pennsylvania, has been chosen director of the institute.

BOULDER DAM ENDORSED BY RANCHERS

If the Boulder Canyon dam is built, as advocated by Secretary Herbert Hoover and other national leaders, Orange county will be immeasurably benefited and the population of Southern California will double in less than ten years, according to Representative Phil Swing, who addressed 2,000 farmers at Orange county park late Saturday.

In addition, Representative Swing declared, vast industries will come to Southern California in ever-increasing numbers, and countless thousands of acres now virtually worthless will sell at fabulous prices.

"This project," said Swing, "is the biggest single improvement that has been proposed in recent years. If it means everything to Imperial valley, it also means much to the people of Orange county. Secretary Hoover says it is one of the biggest things of the age."

Will Bring Investors
"History shows that industry follows cheap power. If we construct this mighty dam, we will be able to develop an abundance of power, thus encouraging outside interests to locate in the heart of one of the richest sections in the world."

Swing, who was introduced by President James A. Smiley, gave a detailed account of his activities at Washington, with particular reference to the interests of agriculture. He discussed the agricultural bloc, touched upon current legislation, told his hearers that the stability of the country hinged largely upon the prosperity of the farmer, and congratulated the farm bureau and the California Farm Bureau federation upon the intelligent part these organizations have taken in state and national legislation.

Commends Breed Act
A. C. Harrison, president of the California Farm Bureau federation, devoted the major portion of his address to a comprehensive review of some of the bills passed at the recent session of the California legislature.

Harrison, who paid his respects to certain legislators and lobbyists, described in detail the bitter struggle experienced in forcing through the Breed bill and other automotive measures.

"If you knew the inside story of the pressure brought to bear to defeat these and other measures before the state legislature, you would be surprised," Harrison told his big audience.

Harrison said the measure designed to protect the state highways, as well as the bill forcing the bus companies to pay their full share of the costs of the maintenance of the highways received the hearty endorsement of the California Farm Bureau federation. He said the Breed bill, regulating the weight of loaded trucks, was the most important bill passed by the state legislature.

Ranchers Enjoy Picnic
Hundreds of Orange county ranchers and the members of their families enjoyed to the fullest possible extent the great annual picnic. Entertainment features included selections by the Girls' orchestra of Polytechnic high school, vocal solos by Robert Bradford, violin solos by Jack Langley, the dancing and other numbers. Music for dancing was furnished by the girls' orchestra.

WEEK-END TOLL OF ACCIDENTS HERE LIGHT

The traffic accident toll in Orange county was lighter than usual during the week-end past, police and hospital records showed today.

A scarce half dozen were hurt in automobile accidents. Only one victim was confined to a hospital today.

S. H. Hotz, Garden Grove and a Miss Grange, Los Angeles, were at their homes today, recovering from injuries sustained about 10:30 p. m. Saturday, when the car which Hotz was driving plunged over an embankment on the Newport boulevard below Costa Mesa.

Hotz sustained bruises and a fractured arm, while Miss Grange escaped with cuts and bruises.

They were taken to the community hospital by passing motorists, but were released yesterday.

T. J. Cartner, Los Angeles, was in a serious condition at the Community hospital today, as a result of injuries sustained early yesterday when an automobile, in which he was riding, overturned below San Juan Capistrano.

He was suffering from facial lacerations and a slight concussion of the brain. A woman, whose name was not learned, was suffering from shock, but her condition was not serious.

A. Heckman, James Buckley and F. M. Serway were recovering today from slight injuries sustained in an automobile accident near Delhi last night.

No report of the affair was on file at police headquarters here, but it was understood that the car driven by one of the young men, went into the ditch. The men were taken to the office of a Santa Ana physician where they received first aid treatment.

TURKS ATTEMPT NEW IDEAS OF GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The organization of the Turkish government of Ankara shows a sweeping attempt at Western democracy.

The new Turkish constitution is embodied in a law, known as the "Fundamental Law." It decrees that, contrary to the usage prevalent in Western monarchies, the sovereignty of the nation is not shared by the ruler and the parliament, as representing the nation, but is vested in the nation alone. It is exercised by the "Grand National Assembly," elected on the basis of general and direct suffrage.

The assembly alone is entitled to declare war or to make peace. It elects its president—this office is held by Mustafa Kemal Pasha—who is the first official of the state. The cabinet is not nominated, but likewise elected by the National Assembly. The premiership is now held by Rasud Bey. The ministers are responsible to the National Assembly.

Church and state have been separated. With the abolition of the temporal powers of the Sultan, he retains the Caliphate, or spiritual leadership of the entire Mohammedan world, but has no influence at all upon the affairs of Turkey, and is merely the "Pope" of the Moslems.

The administration of Turkey is based upon a new and far-reaching autonomy of the individual counties, known as "vilayets." The governor of each county co-operates with the county assembly, and can not override the latter's decisions.

One of the basic principles of the new administration is the abolition of the special privilege of foreigners resident in Turkey. These privileges are known as the "capitulations," and their proposed abolition, anchored in the new Turkish constitution, is now one of the bones of contention of the Lausanne peace conference.

The Turks intend to make Ankara their permanent capital. After the establishment of peace, they will furnish the only known imitation of the American precedent, by separating the center of national administration from the center of economic activities.

Constantinople, Turkey's most important harbor and trade center, will be the New York of Turkey, while Ankara will be the Oriental counterpart of Washington. The concentration of Turkey's administration in Ankara is due to strategic considerations. Turkish leaders fear that Constantinople may be raided by a hostile fleet in case of war, and this is why the country's government has been removed from that danger.

CONSTRUCT ORPHAN HOME.

TOPEKA, Kas., May 19.—The home for orphans of the World War to be established by the Kansas department of the American Legion will be under construction before June 1, according to W. P. MacLean, legion state commander. The Kansas men propose to lay the cornerstone of the first building on Memorial Day. The site for the home is on a 388-acre farm near Independence, which was tendered to the ex-servicemen's organization by a wealthy oil man whose two sons died as a result of war service.

FIELD MEET TO BE HELD BY BOY SCOUTS

Arrangements for the Orange county Boy Scouts field meet to be held on the grounds of the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school next Saturday were being made today by Roland E. Dye, county scout executive, who with Victor E. Teaney, his assistant, had returned here from the regional scout executive meeting held at Yosemite last week.

Four states and over 60,000 boy scouts were represented by the 70 scout executives who attended the sessions at Yosemite, Dye said. The national council leaders, L. W. Barclay, director of the department of education, and L. L. McDonald, of New York City, director of camping activities, were in attendance, he said, and had charge of the daily conferences.

"California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah boy scout councils," Dye said, "were represented at the regional conference. Business sessions were held each day under the direction of the two national council leaders."

"General problems applicable to the executive duties of boy scout work in the four states were discussed and plans formulated for future activities."

The birth-rate for England and Wales for 1922 was the lowest on record, save for the war years, 1915 to 1919.

SENATOR EDEN RETURNS HERE AS LEGISLATURE COMPLETED

With the state board of control, state attorney and state controller holding different opinions as to the correct interpretation of the budget bill, the supreme court will be called on to straighten out some of the points; in the opinion of Walter Eden, state senator, who had returned to Santa Ana today, following adjournment of the legislature.

Mr. and Mrs. Eden arrived late yesterday afternoon and probably will remain here until the first of June, when they will take up their residence at Los Angeles, where the senator has accepted a position in the legal department of the California Title Insurance company.

Dr. C. D. Ball, assemblyman, also has returned home from the state capital.

Eden expressed the opinion that Ray Riley, state controller, will hold up some warrants that will be issued on what is generally termed recurrent expenses. Riley holds that these expenses should have been provided for in the budget, while the governor and the board of control hold that they should not.

May Not Honor Warrants
Eden said that in some circles it is felt certain that Riley will refuse to honor this class of warrants, and that they will be brought before the supreme court on a writ of mandamus.

The recurrent expenses are classed as fixed charges, and the legal point that will be involved will be as to whether they should be taken care of by appropriation in the budget or were provided for under the law creating such charges.

Eden put through the bill making it possible for a farmer who develops more water than he can use to sell the surplus to a neighbor without laying himself liable to the provisions of the public utility act.

The railroad commission in numerous instances has held that an individual with a private well supplying water to a neighbor or group of neighbors comes under the classification of a public utility.

Wrote Bus Bill

Eden also was the author of a bill passing both houses providing that public busses, and trucks carrying combustibles, halt before crossing a railroad track on the public highways. Eden discovered that the judiciary committee of the assembly in amending, had omitted a penalty clause.

At Eden's request, the bill was vetoed. Later, through Eden's influence, a section of the Eden bill embodying the points, was included in the Breed vehicle law.

Eden expressed his approval of the Breed bills providing a two-cent tax on gasoline, and for the operation of motor vehicles, including a 4 per cent tax on public bus and freight motor lines.

He declares several million dollars additional will be available annually for maintenance of highways.

AUTOS CRIPPLED ON LONG BEACH DETOUR

Declaring that he yesterday saw four machines crippled on the detour, and that the detour is the worst he ever has traveled, Redde Smith, automobile editor of the Long Beach Press, today called the Register to suggest that something be done to make passable a detour on the Santa Ana-Long Beach road made necessary by repair work in progress on the highway west of Westminster.

The automobile editor asserts that the dirt road is full of chucks and that only a speed of about eight miles an hour can be maintained with due regard for safety and comfort of passengers.

He pointed out that there is heavy traffic between Santa Ana and Long Beach and expressed the belief that something should be done at once to remedy the condition.

J. L. McBride, superintendent of county highways, said today that a crew is maintained constantly on the detour, sprinkling and filling in chucks. He pointed out that the nature of the road bed and the heavy traffic made it next to impossible to maintain the road in the best of condition.

McBride said that the best way to go to Long Beach is to go through Wintersburg to Sunset Beach, and thence by way of the coast boulevard, which has been completed to Sunset Beach. He said there is only about three miles of dirt road on this route.

COMPLETE SALE OF $255,000 BONDS SOON. FORECAST

Delay In Receiving Cash
No Bar to Execution of Improvements

PRELIMINARY STEPS TAKEN ON PROJECTS

Attorneys For Purchasers of Issue Ironing Out Technicalities

With bond attorneys still making investigations in the proceedings of the recent municipal bond election, purchase of the issue of $250,000 by the First National bank, of this city, remained uncompleted.

The attorneys recently sent here for further details of the proceedings, technical points developing that were not clear in the original transcript, it was said.

Delay in receiving the cash for the bonds is not seriously interfering with execution of improvements contemplated under the bonds. Preliminary steps are being taken on the various projects, but nothing of a definite character involving the expenditure of money can be done until the cash is in hand.

It is understood that technicalities that have been discovered are not of the nature that may result in recommendation by the investigating attorney that the bank decline to proceed with the purchase. However, until final approval is given, there always is possibility of an unfavorable recommendation.

The First National bank was awarded the issue on its bid of a premium approximating $500, after Los Angeles financial concerns had submitted bids in which the highest premium offered was $750. At the time representatives of the Los Angeles institutions pointed out that the bond market was dull, and that the condition might obtain for some months.

BANDIT ROBS TWO IN BREA CANYON

Only meagre details of a pair of hold-ups in Brea canyon, Saturday night, were available today as authorities of Southern California were assisting in a search for the bandit.

About 8:30 p. m. Saturday, a man whose name was not known, approached City Marshal Luney of Brea, and said that a masked man had stopped his car in Brea canyon, and had robbed him of $18. A few moments later, a second man reached Brea, and recounted a similar experience.

Luney notified the sheriff's office, and Deputy McClellan, McKague and Heffner, and Deputy Constable Arambell of El Modena, responded.

Armed with shotguns, they searched the canyon, through to the foothill boulevard, but found no trace of the bandit.

HELD ON BOOZE CHARGE.

H. F. Helmrich was held in the county jail today, facing charges of possession of liquor, following his arrest Saturday night by Patrolmen Barnard and Yoder. At the time of his arrest, he was said to have been carrying a quantity of liquor inside and out.

CHORAL UNION CAST REHEARSE DAILY FOR 'MIKADO' REVIVAL

With the full cast in rehearsal Saturday night at the High school auditorium, the principals scheduled for practice to-night at the studio of Ellis Rhodes, director, and the whole cast making preparations for final rehearsal at the junior high school tomorrow night, the second production here of "The Mikado" by the Orange County Choral Union promises to eclipse the big successes of its presentation here last year by the same organization.

The opera will be given at the high school auditorium Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week, at 8:15, and A. H. Taylor, president of the union, has announced that the performance will start promptly at that time.

Starting at 9:30 o'clock Saturday evening the players rehearsed until 1:45 a. m. yesterday. The late start was due to the fact that many members of the cast were employed in business and could not report at an earlier hour.

"Rehearsal by the full cast demonstrated that the singers are better prepared for the production than was anticipated," said Taylor. "The men and women are in fine voice and they know and sing their parts to perfection. I am confident the coming presentation of the popular opera will be superior to that of a year and a half ago."

It was pointed out by Taylor that the members have been working hard to prepare themselves for the big production. Pride in the organization and determination to demonstrate that this city has talent of a high class has spurred the cast to its best effort.

"Residents of this community have demonstrated their appreciation of the efforts of the union by liberal patronage in the past, and there will be no disappointment for those who attend Wednesday and Thursday nights," continued Taylor.

Tickets are now on sale at the Santa Ana book store. Advance reservations indicate a large attendance at both performances.

Coronans Fight Dual For Heart of Woman

CORONA, Calif., May 21.—That the code duello was revived here by two Mexicans who fought for the love of a woman, was the theory police were working on today following the discovery of the body of A. Marcial in a vineyard on the outskirts of town. Witnesses say that Marcial and another Mexican, Jesus Perez, met and challenged each other to a duel. Perez has disappeared since the shooting.

Robert Brown, who will sing the part of Poo Bah in "The Mikado," to be presented at the high school auditorium here Wednesday and Thursday nights under the auspices of the Orange County Choral Union.

PRaises ROADS IN NORTHERN COUNTIES

Park Custodian Says Santa Ana Has Model
Auto Camp

"There are few auto camps in Northern California that will compare favorably with Santa Ana's model camp," said L. A. Ludwig, auto park custodian, who returned today from Modesto, "but there is one thing for which we must give our northern friends full credit—they know how to take care of their highways."

"Following the Ridge route, we found that every precaution is taken by road workers to safeguard the traveler. As soon as holes appear in the pavement, road gangs are sent out and repairs are made as speedily as possible. I do not recall more than two or three bad holes on the entire trip. Orange county does the same thing, but the same cannot be said of Los Angeles county. The Los Angeles county end of the Long Beach road may be cited as an example."

Attend G. A. R. Encampment Ludwig, who was accompanied by Mrs. Ludwig, Mrs. Maude Wallace, Mrs. Helen Kellogg, and Mrs. Arletta Phillips, spent last week attending the G. A. R. encampment at Modesto. As a member of the Sons of Veterans he was elected a member of the division council of this organization. P. C. Hawthorne, Los Angeles, and A. G. Bennett, San Jose, were also elected members of the council. Other officers elected by the Sons of Veterans were:

Harry A. Thayer, Santa Barbara, division commander; F. C. Marti, Los Angeles, senior vice commander; E. H. Bertram, Modesto, junior vice commander; and A. M. Clark, Santa Barbara, secretary. George Edmans, San Jose, was selected as chaplain. The Aev. F. T. Peter of Santa Ana, was officially designated as a past commander of the Sons of Veterans.

IDEAL SUMMER VACATION IS DESCRIBED

"The Lure of the Canadian Wilds," is brought close to Santa Ana in an article in the May "Motor Boating" magazine signed by Charles F. Smith, member of the Santa Ana board of education and former president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Smith owns an island in the Canadian wilderness and it is his habit to make a lengthy visit each summer to his northern domain. The article tells of an 800-mile cruise through Canadian inland waters in Smith's power boat "Wanashie."

It is a far cry from Southern California to the Georgian Bay, but his little family of three, the middle-aged writer and wife and twelve-year-old girl, have spent many summers on our Belle Isle in Canadian waters near Sault Ste Marie, and have learned to love the country and the people, writes Smith.

"In all the world no cruise like this," the article begins. "You of the fraternity who have heard and heeded the Red Gods' call, to whom the scent of the pine and the balsam and the sheen of the sparkling water are the breath of life; to whom the throb of the motor is fine music, the rush of the wind and tilting decks the poetry of motion, sit and take notice. Whether you are a seasoned veteran or a rank novice at this royal sport, you will be charmed and thrilled as never before, when you experience the pleasures of this 800-mile cruise that has no equal."

As it is not the wish of the commentator to depopulate Santa Ana this summer, the remainder of the article is given in brief with a wise omission of the more tantalizing details of gypsy wanderings with a 30-foot power boat, through a veritable paradise.

There are explicit directions as to the convenience of maps, supplies and the incomparable hospitality of the region of a thousand lakes.

"There are hundreds of summer cottages, located seemingly in every beautiful spot along the lake shores and on the islands, and the fisherman will have no difficulty in finding all of that sport he may desire. Food supplies, fresh milk and ice can be obtained all along the way. One of the most enjoyable features of the trip is the spirit of hospitality you meet with everywhere; the kindly interest in your welfare and the offer of friendly service and information that touch the heart and make you feel at home among the Canadian people."

Bit of Man's Scalp Found by Stray Dog

LOS ANGELES, May 21.—The mystery of the portion of a man's scalp deposited on the doorstep of a Hollywood grocer by a homeless dog was being investigated today. Police say it was taken from a body apparently dead two weeks.

VALENCIA SHOW WILL OPEN TOMORROW

Santa Anans to Take Part In Opening Ceremonies
at Anaheim

Santa Anans are directly interested in the opening tomorrow at 10 a. m. of the third annual California Valencia Orange show in the big tents pitched at the corner of Lemon and Cypress avenues, Anaheim.

Two Santa Ana girls, Miss Irene Rich, 1047 West Highland avenue, and Miss Marjorie Androu, 805 West Fifth street, are candidates for the sash of flowers, with Judge J. B. Cox of Santa Ana, known throughout the nation as the "jailing jurist," will bind the orange show bride and groom.

Tomorrow afternoon Freeman H. Bloodgood, Santa Ana realtor, will make addresses along with Ole Hanson, former mayor of Seattle and now a realtor of Los Angeles. Santa Ana realtors will attend. A large number of Santa Ana and Orange children are to take part in the pageant depicting the growth of the Valencia orange industry to be staged under the direction of Miss Lettie Carroll of Orange, later in the week.

Film Stars to Appear. Tomorrow afternoon Santa Ana motion picture fans and others from the county seat will have another opportunity to meet Claire Windsor and Aileen Pringle, Goldwyn stars, who will appear on the platform along with Patsy Ruth Miller and Mae Busch. Miss Windsor made her first personal appearance on any stage at the Temple theater, Santa Ana, last year and Miss Pringle made many friends when she was the honored guest of the Santa Ana American Legion post Auto Resurrection day.

Ellen Beach Yaw, coloratura soprano, well known to Santa Ana music lovers, will sing at the show, accompanied by a number of picked musicians from the symphony orchestra of Los Angeles. Four watchmen are guarding the entrances of the show to see that the public gains no idea of the spectacular beauty that has been prepared for its delectation. The Egyptian motif prevails throughout and one of the finest things that will burst upon the amazed spectator's vision will be the numinous group about the 18-inch pillar at the entrance.

Nile Scenes Shown. Around the top of the orange display cases will be a mural decoration, four feet deep and concaved, which pictures scenes along the River Nile in the days of King Tut-Ankh-Amen. It vividly shows ruined temples, stately palaces, the Sphinx and pyramids and other architectural wonders in the cradle of civilization.

Miss Lettie H. Carroll, dance instructor at the University of California, Southern Branch, is in charge of the spectacular pageant which is to depict the growth of the California Valencia Orange industry. Arrayed in striking costumes, these dancers will be one of the big features of the show, which will continue through Decoration Day, May 30.

Malcolm Fraser and Herman Storn, of the executive committee, have completed every detail for the great event. Every foot of display and industrial exhibition space has been sold and some remarkable exhibits will be found.

Vaudville and animal acts, pageants, choral numbers and a diversified amusement program, changing daily, will be offered. The music will be the best obtainable, including opera singers and artists of the Philharmonic Orchestra.

Joy Zone to Lure

Selig's trained motion picture jungle animals, valued at $1,000, will be one of the principal amusements in the "Joy Zone," where there will be many children's features and side shows. A tent 130x430 feet will shelter the more than 200 exhibits of the latest models of pleasure cars, farm tractors and other motor-powered vehicles which are so essential to life in the sunny Southland.

One of the boys, Harold Lewis, 15 years old, 1028 East Sixth street, was booked at police headquarters for intoxication when he was found staggering about the grounds of the Longfellow school, where the youths were taken into custody.

S. A. REALTORS TO LEAVE FOR SHOW AT 1 P. M.

With the opening day recognized as Realtors' day, real estate dealers of Santa Ana today were making plans for assembling on Broadway in front of the courthouse here at 1 p. m. tomorrow, to proceed to Anaheim in a body to attend the California Valencia Orange show.

The local group will gather at Anaheim on Library square, and headed by the Santa Ana high school band, will march to the show grounds.

It is expected that virtually every member of the Santa Ana Board of Realtors will close his office at 12 p. m. tomorrow.

Dinner to Be Served To Contest Winners

Preparations were being made today for an attendance of 125 men and women at a joint meeting of the Brotherhood, the Business Men's class and the Two and One class of Spurgeon Memorial Sunday school at the church tomorrow evening, when a chicken dinner will be served. A musical program will be given, and efforts are being made today to secure a special speaker for the evening.

The combination meeting is the result of an attendance contest conducted recently between the two Sunday school classes, with the loser obligated to provide the winning class with a chicken dinner. The business men's class was the loser.

Plans for the program are in charge of C. W. McNaught, Cleve Sedoris and C. N. Mozley.

TOOK SACRAMENTAL WINE DES MOINES, Iowa, May 21.

Four school boys, ranging in ages from 12 to 16 years, were arrested by police after it was alleged they broke into a basement at 1014 East Seventh street, taking a quantity of sacramental wine.

One of the boys, Harold Lewis, 15 years old, 1028 East Sixth street, was booked at police headquarters for intoxication when he was found staggering about the grounds of the Longfellow school, where the youths were taken into custody.

D. K. Hammond, dean of the college, will preside and will announce on the program, a group of vocal solos, by Miss Etta Conkle, a group of piano solos by Miss Isabel Anderson and the speaker of the evening, Miss Floy Donaldson.

1200 LIONS TO BE RELEASED ON STREETS THURSDAY MORNING

Dr. Frank Roach of Long

Convention

NORTHERN DELEGATES

Reception Committee to Escort Northern Visitors
From Harbor In Cars

With the executive committee and the arrangements committee scheduled to meet in the Spurgeon building here late today to discuss final plans, and with Chairman J. A. George predicting that fully 1,200 persons will be in attendance, last-minute details were rapidly being worked out for the Lions convention scheduled to open here next Thursday.

"With the acceptance of our invitation by Dr. Frank Roach of Long Beach, we are assured one of the best speakers obtainable for the principal address at the Temple theater Thursday night," said Chairman George here today.

"Those were were fortunate enough to hear Dr. Roach speak at the Rotary convention in Pasadena will not soon forget the appeal of his striking sentences. He came to Pasadena somewhat in the nature of a 'dark horse,' but when he arose to address the big crowd he quickly electrified his audience. He will give the assembled Lions a treat here this week, we are sure."

To Vie for Cup. According to members of the executive committee, there will be spirited competition for the beautiful cup offered by the Santa Ana Rotary club for the best attendance record.

"This cup," said Chairman George, "is just another evidence of the keen and commendable interest the people of Santa Ana are taking in the big convention of the Lions. We feel deeply grateful to the Rotary club, as well as all others, who have shown such a fine spirit in the matter."

Concerning the bay cities delegation expected here from San Francisco, Chairman George said a "glad-hand" committee, headed by Santa Ana Lions, assisted by the San Pedro Den, will meet the steamship off San Pedro and then pilot the Northern visitors to Santa Ana.

"The San Pedro Den will bring the bay cities delegation from San Pedro in sixty or seventy new Studebaker cars, especially loaned for the occasion," said George. "The Studebaker string will be headed by a car filled with a Santa Ana reception committee."

Stunts Planned. With fourteen clubs prepared to contest for first division honors in the "stunts" arranged as a feature of the convention, advance units today were in Santa Ana mapping out details for the Fresno, Berkeley and other visiting clubs. Judges for the stunts will be Horace Fine, Mac O. Robbins and Freeman H. Bloodgood.

"We are going to have a record crowd," said Chairman George, "and it may be necessary for us to appeal to the good people of the city to throw open their homes to

WILL AID GIRLS IN CHOOSING COLLEGE

Where shall I go to college? To decide where to go to college is getting more and more like solving a close problem in higher mathematics, say the girl graduates at the high school here who have not yet made their decisions.

One solution to the problem, which is all prepared and ready to take, say the junior college girls, is to decide upon junior college.

And so the ninety members of the Junior College Y. W. C. A., which includes virtually all the girls in the college, will entertain the high school senior girls at lunch in the Y. W. C. A. hut Friday, May 25.

In addition to the purely social purpose of the luncheon the college girls will use the occasion to tell the high school girls about junior college and the Y. W. C. A. They will tell their guests of the advantages of attending junior college, get acquainted with them and answer any questions the high school girls may have to ask about registration, college work, activities and benefits.

Arrangements for the luncheon will be under the direction of Miss Annette Lewis, chairman of hospitality of the Y. W. C. A.

LATIN CLASSES AT FULLERTON INCREASING

FULLERTON, May 21.—The study of Latin is on the up-grade in all secondary schools, was the emphatic statement of Miss Clara Schaaf, head of the Latin department, Fullerton union high school and junior college here.

However, according to Miss Schaaf, Latin is studied in a much different way than formerly. Her contention is that the temporary neglect of Latin was due to false methods of teaching.

Experientia Docet

In the local Latin department, she says, great emphasis is placed on correlating Latin with other subjects, especially English and history. Latin is also taught with reference to its bearing on modern languages. For example, the study of Virgil's Aeneid is largely a course in English classics which are based on the ancient Latin classics. Much original writing is also done—newspaper stories dealing with events in the life of ancient Rome and other original writing. The study of the influence of Rome on the modern world is also stressed.

In the second year the old style method of studying Caesar has given place to easy reading of plays and the study of the private and business life of the ancient Romans. Caesar is taken up in the second semester and then only the most interesting parts are translated. Derivation work is emphasized in all courses.

Labor Omnia Vincit
Under Miss Schaaf's leadership a strong Latin club has been organized. Numerous excellent programs have been given. Miss Ida May Shrode, dean of women, Fullerton junior college, gave on one occasion an account of her recent trip to Italy, describing the ruins of Pompeii.

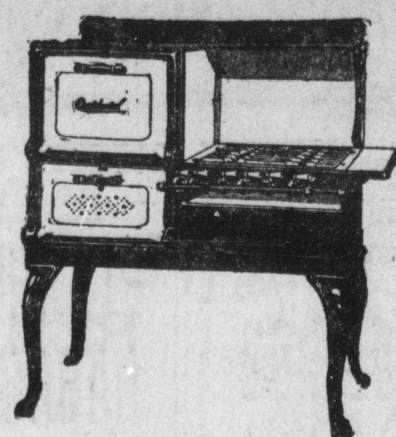

The Christmas season was celebrated by the reproduction of the old Roman holiday festivals and priestly ceremonies. On another evening, when the new members were initiated, a Roman wedding was enacted, and selections from Virgil were dramatized.

Miss Schaaf predicts increased enrollment this coming year, as last year's increase was 25 per cent in Latin students over the preceding year.

PIER LEASE IS PLEASING TO HARBOR FOLK

NEWPORT BEACH, May 21.—Citizens of Newport Beach, Orange county's harbor, were today awaiting the first steps in the construction of an oil pipeline here from Huntington Beach, the beginning of what many consider to be the first concrete move toward making of Newport Beach what all have prophesied it will be, a world port of the first magnitude.

Big Step Forward
The granting of a ten-year lease to a company of independent oil operators, for the use of the local pier for loading oil tankers in the trade between the Pacific coast, Norway, Sweden and ports of the orient and far east, is seen as the first big step forward in the commercial development of Newport Beach and its harbor.

Thomas W. Simmons, one of the men concerned in the lease, is head of a large oil importing company with storage tanks and distributing facilities in all parts of the world. His residence is in San Francisco. D. B. Fuller, vice president of the American National bank of San Francisco, is associated with him. William Taylor is an oil operator of Huntington Beach. Thomas Talbert is chairman of the county board of supervisors. L. A. West is former district attorney in this county. He is the company's chief counsel.

Must Start Oil Flow
The company must begin actual construction in six months from date and must start shipping oil from its pipe line in eighteen months. They promise speedier performance than that. In case oil fails to flow to the tankers for a period of six months, the lease is automatically cancelled.

The company will erect a tank farm on the bluffs overlooking the city and is now securing rights of way for its lines from the county and cities affected. Following the completion of the line from Huntington Beach it will bring a line from the Santa Fe fields, and expects to be busy for the next ten years constructing pipe lines to Newport harbor.

In discussing the matter Mr. Simmons stated that this step would be of vast benefit to Newport Beach and would be the first move toward the development of the harbor.

An Ideal Harbor
"I have never seen a prettier harbor than you people have right here," he said. "It is ideally situated and located. Using this port for our tankers will mean that the government must establish customs, port, clearance, sanitary and other officers here to take care of foreign shipping. Our vessels must be provisioned and water here and it will bring in ship chandlers, provision houses and other concerns who cater to this kind of shipping. In addition our company will maintain an office here, while a large crew will be employed to operate the oil tanks and the pipe lines."

Inquiry made by the board into the financial responsibility of the concern, shows that they have ample capital to carry the project to completion.

It was stated that when the line was in operation from ten to fifteen tankers a month would load here. The average tanker sailing to foreign ports carries a crew of from 15 to 30 men. Provisioning on a long trip requires tons of food and thousands of gallons of water, all of which will be secured at this port. It means the carrying of the name of Newport harbor to all sections of the globe.

Large contracts with the Swedish and Norwegian governments will be carried out first by the pipe line people, and later tankers will go to the Orient and the Far East.

PAGEANT KIDDIES READY!

Here are Six Little Sunshine Buds who will take part in the Kiddies Pageant in the program of the Third Annual California Valencia Orange Show this week at Anaheim allegorically depicting the origin, early struggle and ultimate victory of the famous citrus fruit.

VALENCIA SHOW SOPRANO BIG ATTRACTION

ANAHEIM, May 21.—Ellen Beach Yaw, internationally famous soprano, whose canary-like voice has charmed audiences on two continents and in many countries, has been engaged to sing at the third annual California Valencia Orange show, which opens here next Tuesday, to continue through the 30th inst.

Madame Yaw, whose vocal range is three notes higher than that of any other coloratura soprano of her time, she having reached the almost unbelievable pitch of B-flat above high C, needs no introduction to music lovers of the Southland, where she long has been known and loved, not only for her wondrous vocal sweetness, but also because of her charitable and rescue work among unfortunate women.

In commenting on Madame Yaw's voice when she sang in Nice, France, L'Eclair, a newspaper there, said: "In the mad scene from 'Hamlet,' one was permitted to appreciate the certainly unique voice of Ellen Beach Yaw, a charming American, endowed with a voice incomparable, which she uses with rare ability."

Critical journals in Rome, Paris, Monte Carlo, Naples, London and other European centers of culture have joined with the leading American journals in praising the wonderful clarity and timbre of Madame Yaw's exceptional voice. The famous singer will be heard in many selections during the orange show, of which she is one of the headline attractions.

Maryon Aye, noted screen beauty and actress in many popular photographs, has been chosen as "Queen Valencia," the majestic sovereign who will reign over the pomp and pageantry of the festivities here. Miss Aye will be garbed in royal robes of orange hue and will take part in the social activities of the big citrus exposition.

As "Queen Valencia," she will be attended by a court of pretty girls, with a sprinkling of handsome men, and will preside over the pageant to be staged by Miss Lettie H. Carroll, dance instructor at the University of California, Southern Branch.

Floater in Parade.
Anaheim was brought prominently to the attention of Angelinos last night when the float entered by the California Valencia Orange Show took part in the "Music Week" parade. It was gorgeously decorated in the exposition's colors, blue and orange, and was accompanied by a truck, donated by the Orange County Fast Freight Line, on which rode the Anaheim Community Chorus, with beautiful girls throwing oranges among the crowds to advertise the fruit show.

Orange Girls Are Badly Shaken Up In Strange Smash

ORANGE, May 21.—Riding a "wild" automobile into a store front, Miss Ruby Craig and Ruth Robertson, both of this city, caused damage estimated at $100 to the marble front at Decker's confectionery store, North Glassell street.

Minutes previously, the girls who were returning from Santa Ana in their car, a Ford, smashed into the rear of an automobile parked in front of Wood's dry goods store, forcing it upon the curb.

The dual accident happened when a radius rod governing the steering device broke, rendering the car unmanageable.

The girls after colliding with the car attempted to continue their journey unaware that the car was unmanageable.

Swaying drunkenly the machine, with the girls in a frenzy, continued up the street, then suddenly darted for the curb.

Seeing their plight, Merchant Policeman Gene Fischer, who was nearby, ran across the street, leaped upon the running board just as the wild car plunged over the curb into the Decker store front. The girls, badly frightened, scrambled to safety. The marble front on the building was shattered in places and damage, it was estimated, will run close to $100.

GRUNION HUNT SUCCESSFUL AT SERRA

VILLA PARK, May 21.—The grunion along the Serra beach had the scare of their lives Saturday evening when they saw a crowd of veteran grunion hunters from Villa Park, led by Frank H. Collins, descend into their realm.

The Villa Park party had a number of guests. A regular Villa Park barbecued steak dinner, finished with some of Villa Park's best country-made pies, was served on the beach. After that came a period of about three hours during which valiant efforts were made to catch surf fish in the most approved method; that is, by hook and line. Louis DeLong took first honors in that contest. E. B. Collier fished longest and got the least; that is, he got some good bites.

By the time the grunion began running, about about 10:45 o'clock there were fully 200 people scattered along the beach, some with nets, some with bags and all with bare hands ready to grab the festive grunion when she should come out upon the beach to lay her eggs.

H. D. Nichols and R. B. Wallace wielded a net that brought in many a grunion.

As usual in grunion hunting, those who got the wettest had the most fun, and everybody had a barrel of fun.

Guests of Villa Park friends at this very enjoyable picnic were H. J. Nichols, A. E. Tate, H. E. Walcott, who is manager of the Pomona Fruit Growers exchange, and W. J. Ceddie, all of Pomona; Earl Corbaley and son, Los Angeles; Mrs. G. W. Young, T. E. Stephenson and son Teddy, of Santa Ana. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. John Allen and son, Mr. and Mrs. Louis DeLong and daughter, Miss Anna Eucker, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Collier, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. John Reed and children, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Nichols, Willard Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Adams.

Fullerton Boy Is Elected Master By De Molay District

FULLERTON, May 21.—Honor was accorded Raymond Thompson, newly elected master counselor of the Fullerton chapter of the Order of De Molay, when he was elected president of the Associated Order of De Molay of Southern California upon his visit to the meeting of the Southern California order held in Los Angeles last evening.

This recognition was given him and the Fullerton chapter, by virtue of the fact that their attendance records excels all other chapters of Southern California. The chapter, though organized hardly a year, has already gained recognition nationally for the high standards it maintains, those who visited Los Angeles last evening were surprised to learn.

Thompson appointed as his assistants in his Southern California office the two members here who accompanied him on his visit to Los Angeles last evening, Stanley Strain, scribe-elect, and Walter Thornton, past master counselor of the local chapter, De Molay.

GROVE THEATER TO BE FINISHED SOON

GARDEN GROVE, May 21.—The erection of the new Garden Grove theater was commenced Monday on Euclid just north of the Guyton Ford agency.

This building will be constructed of concrete with granite finish and will be 33 by 75 feet in size. There will be a twelve foot stage, ample room for vaudeville attractions, two small store rooms on each side with attractive lobby.

Because the town has outgrown the accommodations of the present theater, the people of Garden Grove and vicinity are awaiting with interest the completion of this building which is expected to be in 60 days.

The auditorium will have a seating capacity of 350 persons and will be strictly up to date in every detail.

"It certainly was a lucky day for me when I got Tanlac, for it's got me to feeling better and stronger than I have in over ten years," said John Thorn, well known contractor, residing at 675 Howard St., San Francisco, Cal.

"For ten years or more my stomach was in such a fix that no mat-

"But I've taken six bottles of Tanlac now and am feeling fit as a fiddle. I never have a touch of indigestion any more, I sleep like a log every night, and that tired, run down feeling is entirely gone and I am full of energy all the time. What Tanlac has done for me makes me glad to recommend it."

IRVINE NINE WINS FROM SAILOR TEAM

Hinrichs Hurls No Run, No Hit Game As Ranchers Hammer Spheroid

Big "Dutch" Hinrichs, crack Irvine pitcher, today was entitled to have his name carved in the hall of fame following his sensational display of stuff at the bean town yesterday afternoon when he pitched a no run, no hit game against the strong U. S. S. Idaho baseball club while his own club was piling up seven tallies.

The work of the Irvine hurler was as near perfect as any game that has ever been pitched in Orange county. Only one sailor got thrown out at second trying to run away on "Toughy" Tyrrell's arm. The one sailor who saw first got there when Pete Duhart, Irvine shortstop, muffed a grounder. Not a sailor got on base via the base on balls route.

Arthur Trickey's pets took a liking to the stuff thrown over by Sky, the sailor hurler. Fifteen counts were marked down as hits on the scoreboard. Ed Cutting leading with three blows and five other gentlemen obtaining two apiece. At that, four of the Irvine runs were scored on Idaho errors and had Sky received perfect support the score would have been about 3 to 0.

Haines Glad He Was In College When Johnson Had Speed

Hinkle Haines, former Penn State football and baseball star, is now a member of the New York Yankees.

The college ball player doesn't care much for speed, answered Haines when asked why Johnson shut out the Yankees, 3 to 0, at Washington. Johnson was very fast, had one of his good days.

"I am glad I'm warming the bench today with Johnson showing all that speed," said Haines to Babe Ruth. "His fast one today was his slow ball 10 years ago," replied Ruth in all seriousness.

"I am glad I was at Penn State when he was good," answered Haines, "why he's so fast today he has me blinking sitting on the bench. But I'd think I was blindfolded if I was up there trying to hit."

ATHLETICS, YANKS TAKE LEAGUE LEAD

New York Club Wins 7th Straight Game From Western Contenders

NEW YORK, May 21.—Those unfigurable Yanks and the surprising Athletics have taken to themselves the role of putting on what few "sensations" there have been in the youth of the baseball season.

Both have rallied to the faltering cause of the east in the intersectional battles of the American league, and they are on their way home in possession of the first and second place.

The two years champions of the league played everything but champion ball against the soft eastern clubs and when they set out to meet the strong western clubs they carried some forbodings with them.

To date the Yanks have dropped only two of their 11 games on the road and yesterday they won their seventh straight. They took two from the Cleveland Indians, grabbed three out of four from the heavy hitting Tigers, ran over the Browns for four straight and started against the White Sox by winning the first game.

The Athletics won eight out of eleven games on their tour of the west. They took four games from the Indians, one out of three from the Browns, two out of three from the White Sox and their first game with the Tigers. It seems certain that Connie Mack's ball club has arrived.

The National league, so far is presenting nothing but the spectacle of the Giants moving ahead surely. McGraw's men are losing only a game now and then, and there is nothing that threatens them on their coming invasion of the west.

boxing commission, sitting at the ringside, fined each fighter $500 for stalling.

TOMMY GIBBONS, BUSINESS MAN, WILL FIGHT JACK DEMPSEY FOR RING TITLE

BY HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Editor)

NEW YORK, May 19.—Thomas Joseph Gibbons, respected citizen, responsible business man of St. Paul and a family man of the highest ideals, is going to fight Jack Dempsey in Shelby, Montana, on July 4, for the world's heavyweight championship.

To know a man of the character of Tom Gibbons, to have first hand knowledge of his private life and to associate him with the prize ring is a problem in psychology, where the answer lies only in the man.

"A profession is just as honorable as a man makes it," Tommy once said, when asked why he had chosen to follow the ring as his career.

Facts and figures about the ring career of Tom Gibbons can be found in the record books, but the real story of Gibbons is familiar to only a few who have been fortunate enough to know him intimately and win his confidence.

There was a "Gentleman Jim" Corbett, who left a desk in a bank to become a heavyweight champion; there were Jim Jeffries and Kid McCoy, sons of clergymen, who won titles in the ring and there was a Carpenter who rose to the pedestal of a national hero, but none of them possessed the all-around qualifications of refinement that are personified in Tommy Gibbons.

Always a clean liver from the time he was removed from the discipline of a strict Irish parent, Gibbons has never been a victim of any kind of dissipation. He has never smoked or drank and his idea of a wild party after he has won a contest is to partake of several quarts of ice cream.

A Man of Family
Gibbons places his religious and family obligations above everything else and when he is not in the ring or taking a trip on ring business he can be found around his home in St. Paul with his three sturdy youngsters, Thomas Joseph (Little Junior) age 5; John Anthony (Jack) age 3; and Richard Gregory (Dick) age eight months.

Last winter Gibbons spent a few weeks in New York and at that time he was being mentioned as one of the opponents for Dempsey this summer. Every one wanted to talk about it, but Tom, when the conversation drifted around to ring subjects, Tom would get into another channel and tell with the greatest interest how Little Tommy, just a few days before Christmas, had found a pair of snow shoes back of the piano where Santa Claus had carelessly exposed them to view.

When the talk would be worked around to boxing again, Tom would prefer to talk about "Duke," one of his hunting dogs, which he claimed to be the smartest animal in the north.

A Great Hunter
Gibbons is a great hunter and outdoor man and he likes to discuss his theories about the training of dogs and game about the best breed, their various peculiarities and capabilities. He is essentially an outdoor man and he is bringing up his family the same way. Little Tom and Jack are cracks on snowshoes and skis and they accompany their father on most of his winter jaunts through the woods.

It has often been pointed out to Gibbons that he had not advanced as rapidly in his profession as his talents merited, because he did not show himself enough around New York and the big boxing centers.

"I'm happy where I am," Tom couldn't be happy in New York. The wife and the kiddies could never stand being cramped in New York and my place is with them all the time, even when it does exact some big sacrifices," he would say in answer.

Characters of such high ideals are so unusual in the boxing game that a personality like Gibbons seems almost an accident and he did get sort of an accidental, or if it might be considered as such, a sort of pre-destined start in the ring.

In a second chapter Monday, Gibbons' early career in the ring and how he got started will be related.

RECORD 1923 LOWS MADE ON 'CHANGE

(By United Press Leased Wire) NEW YORK, May 21.—Today's market showed little variation from other recent sessions in which professionals active on the side of declining prices have had practically a free hand.

Before 12 o'clock selling was renewed throughout the list, and record 1923 lows were established by steel, Studebaker, Chandler, American Car and Foundry, Consolidated Gas, Kelly Springfield and other representative industrials.

Rails were accorded no better support, many issues of this class breaking to the lowest prices seen since last November. Sentiment continued pessimistic, and considerable emphasis was laid upon reports from various centers of diminishing industrial operations.

But most of the pressure was so obviously of professional character that observers predicted a sharp rally in the event that current conditions proved to be a temporary pause which would be followed by another boom in the autumn.

FINANCIAL COMMENT

Short Talks on Current Events of Interest to Investors

By James Wilbur

Approximately $2,000,000,000 in new securities were offered on the American market during the first quarter of 1923, an increase of nearly half a billion dollars over the corresponding period in 1922.

Although municipal bond offerings were nearly $80,000,000 less than during the first quarter of 1922, the total of long-term bonds issued by states and municipalities during this period was the largest, with the exception of last year, of any first quarter since 1914 or earlier.

There is little foreign financing in prospect for the immediate future, but a large amount of industrial financing is contemplated. The increase in the flotation of this class of securities is considered striking evidence of the return to confidence on the part of investors.

The securities of utility companies are steadily growing in favor among investors, not only because of their attractive return, but because of the high degree of safety which they offer. Public utility bonds have already been certified as legal investments for savings and trust funds in 11 states and it is generally conceded that the savings banks of other states should be extended the privilege of purchasing these bonds.

According to the latest estimates, at least 150,000 Americans will visit Europe this season, and in aggregate will spend a minimum of $300,000,000. It is believed that the heavy tourist expenditures will have a stabilizing effect on the foreign exchanges, particularly on the francs.

Compilations by the Federal Reserve bank of San Francisco show that total sales of electric power in California for industrial purposes in February, 1923, exceeded February of last year by 15.6 per cent, according to Blyth, Witter & Company. In the principal industries increases are as follows: agriculture, 47.3 per cent; mining, 24 per cent; and manufacturing, 33 per cent.

MORE CANTALOUPE REACH BAY CITY

Imperial Valley Product $10 Per Crate On Standards

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—There was a much slower demand for strawberries and considerable stock will necessarily go to the canneries.

Seventy-nine crates of Imperial valley cantaloupes were received today. Dealers were receiving 6.00@7.00 on crates and 9.00@10.00 for standards. Flat crates of cantaloupes brought $2 to $2.50 each.

The cherry market continued quiet with soft white stock selling from 4 to 7 cents per pound. Black tartarians in bulk sold from 6 to 10c per pound. One hundred and thirty-six boxes of figs were received by express. Prices ranged considerably lower, small boxes selling from $2 to $2.50 each. Peaches sold slowly at $1.00@1.50 per crate.

The market for peas is showing a slight improvement with good stock selling from 8 to 12 cents per pound.

The tomato market is much easier with heavier supplies arriving from Imperial valley. Best grades of Imperial valley tomatoes sold today from $2 to $2.50 per crate, but dealers seem to expect lower prices. Receipts by rail amounted to seven cars from Mexico and six from Imperial Valley.

Trading was quiet and no changes in prices on poultry reported. Twelve coops of live poultry were received today by express.

Stockyards to Be Stocker and Feeder Center for Cattlemen

The Los Angeles Union Stock Yards is expected to become the center for stocker and feeder cattle trading in California this summer and fall. In order to accommodate the large runs and to insure a goodly assortment of all kinds of stocker and feeder cattle, a new division is being constructed at the stockyards, sufficient to accommodate several thousand cattle. This addition will be ready for use in a few weeks.

Many California cattlemen in the lower valleys believe that it is cheaper to buy thin cattle in the late summer and fall rather than raise the stock themselves. This is especially true in such counties as Ventura, Inyo, Imperial and San Luis Obispo. Inquiries are beginning to come in from buyers in the northwestern range states, these cattlemen feeling that they can buy at less expense through the yards than to spend several weeks end much carfare searching for cattle on individual ranches.

GRAINS RALLY AND REGAIN EARLY LOSS

Heavy Slump In Visible Supply, Causes Advance In Wheat

(By United Press Leased Wire) CHICAGO, May 21.—Grain prices after remaining weak throughout most of the day's trading on the Chicago board of trade, rallied toward the close and regained early losses. Wheat and corn showed a little gain while oats closed fractionally lower.

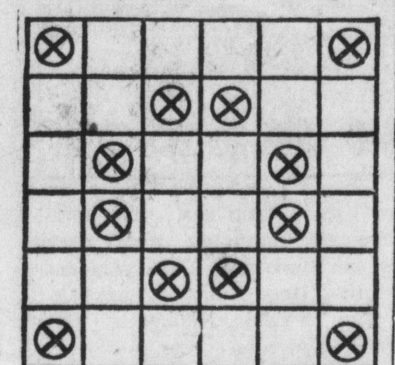

Heavy decreases in the visible supply of all grains, coupled with unfavorable growing conditions in sections of Kansas, caused the advance in wheat. The market had been nervous and erratic throughout the day. The chinch bug was reported menacing sections of the southwest.

World shipments of corn decreased 3,127,000 bushels to 12,393,000. Reports from Russia that that country was offering grain

I. W. W. START ACTIVITIES

SIoux CITY, May 21.—Of-fices for the agricultural branch of the I. W. W. have again been opened in Sioux City and a campaign for new members is being staged. Much literature is being circulated. It is said that night-ly street corner talks are to be made here and in other towns and villages in territory tributary to the city. Just what the plans are and reasons for the renewed activity are not explained by officers of the organization. Though it is believed the organization plans to renew activity in the harvest fields during the coming summer and fall.

THE MOTOR VEHICLE LAWS

Whatever else the legislature did or did not do—and there are plenty of illustrations of both—it did a good job in adjusting the relation of the automobile stages, commercial trucking lines and trucks to the highways. All of the details of the adjustment have not been received from Sacramento, but, judging by dispatches, most of the things that were left undone by the legislature two years ago have been put into effect.

We are not giving our approval, wholesale, to all the motor vehicle legislation, for we are not well enough informed upon it to say that it was all good. We are certain, however, that the reduction of load limits from 30,000 to 22,000 pounds for four-wheeled vehicles was a move in the right direction. The load limit might have been lowered another ton or two without doing any great harm to the trucking industry, but with an added item of safety for the highways.

We are certain, too, that a franchise tax of four per cent upon the gross receipts of auto stages and trucking lines using the state and county roads is an equitable tax. If there is anything wrong with it, the fault lies in the fact that the percentage is too low. The first thought of the legislature was to make it five per cent, but a fight to lower the percentage to four proved successful.

A provision in the measure gives a board of supervisors authority to stop heavy traffic upon a road that is being shattered. That provision will prove especially useful in Orange county.

One of the best things about the state legislation is that it produces uniformity throughout the state. In their efforts to protect their roads, the counties during the past two years have passed numerous ordinances seeking to regulate load limits. A legal truck load in Orange county might be an illegal load in Los Angeles county.

While we have not been very enthusiastic about the two-cent tax on gasoline, we are perfectly willing that the method of raising money for highway construction be tried out. It is not an entirely equitable system. A flivver using a gallon of gasoline will not do as much damage to a highway as will a heavily loaded truck during the time it uses a gallon of gasoline. But it is hardly fair to dwell on the weak spots of this system unless we have a better system to offer. The state must have money to build the highways that we demand, and we are therefore saying amen to the gasoline tax.

SANTA ANA A CITY OF 50,000

Results in any enterprise seldom are to be measured by the amount of money expended. It is the plan behind that spending which decides whether or not that money has been wasted.

Plans, such as building a city, should be given long consideration and mature thought.

Quite often, if the planning is gone into seriously, gratifying results can be obtained without a drive for funds.

It was with something of this idea in mind that the editor of the Development Section of The Register began a campaign for ideas on the subject of "When Santa Ana Is a City of 50,000."

Interest in the important subject already has been displayed. Business men of Santa Ana have been immediate in their response to what appeals to them as a sensible campaign plan.

Santa Ana as a city of 50,000, they declare, is not many years ahead. Plans for such a city should be made now. Formation of a civic planning commission and the proper filing and preservation of ideas brought forth by the campaign begun in the Development Section of The Register have been suggested.

Architects, engineers, bankers, city officials, organization officers, utility corporation managers and others of equal importance in the growth and development of Santa Ana have expressed their intention of contributing thoughtful treatises upon the subject of Santa Ana as a city of 50,000.

The articles will be published in the Development Section of The Register Thursday of each week. Comment will be invited and a portion of the pages of the section, which since its inception has reflected Santa Ana's growth with such truth as to be designated as the "Prosperity" section, will be given over to an exposition of the Santa Ana that is to be.

COLD SPRING, HOT SUMMER

No doubt a scientist has as good a right to change his mind or to discover new facts as anybody else.

Dr. Charles Greeley Abbot of the Smithsonian Institution, said to know more than any other man living about solar radiation, announced not so long ago that the delayed spring in the United States was caused by a gradual decrease in solar heat since November, 1921. Now he says that this radiation has reached its lowest point for the time being and is due to get back to normal within a month. And after that, says this cheerful predictor, we may have the hottest summer on record.

Unfortunately civilization has not yet learned to control the weather. It is only learning how to predict it—even at its worst—through the softening history of the weather of other days.

Here in Orange county we can with tranquility hear Dr. Abbot's predictions. We didn't notice anything especially cold about our spring. In fact, it was a pretty fair spring. And we aren't likely to have an intolerable summer. We'll predict that much without consulting the sun, moon and stars. We will take past performances as ground for our optimism in this regard.

KEEPING THEM BUSY A PROBLEM

"What am I going to do to keep my children busy this summer?"

A good many Orange county mothers are asking this question, and are having difficulty answering it. Some of these mothers rather dread the closing of the school year. School activities and hours occupy the child's mind. In vacation—what?

The question is one that does not bother the farmer's wife. There is always plenty for a boy or a girl to do on a farm. The problem is one that is most pressing where the home is located on a fifty-foot lot.

Employment of the right kind may be the solution. Of course, we know that a great deal is said and written against child labor. We have worked ourselves to the point where we seem to think that a boy with a job is imposed upon, and the parent who allows a boy to work is an unnatural creature. A good many of us have lost sight of the fact that there is a great gulf between working ten or twelve hours a day in a vile, hot sweatshop in New York and picking up apricots in an Orange county orchard.

Recreation, of course, must be considered. Vacations and outings, good food, plenty of sleep, and regularity of exercise—all these things should be kept in mind during the summer. The boys and girls ought to have their bodies built up during the next three months so that when they enter school in the fall they will be in the best of health.

But there are thousands of parents in Orange county who will be unable to get to the beaches often or occasionally, who will be unable to spend time in the mountains. It is with them that the problem of taking care of their children, of giving them something to do to keep them busy, weighs heaviest.

With many, the playgrounds will prove a boon. With others regular work around the yard is an avenue of occupation. The boy may be put to building an arbor and to planting vines. The girl may be given household tasks to do.

Whatever it is, the main thing for the parent to do is to find something to keep the youngsters busy. The old, old saying about the devil's activities in finding things for idle hands to do will apply just as much to conditions and children of Orange county during the summer of 1923 as it has to children everywhere throughout the ages.

Now Pearl Is Married

San Diego Union—Knebel, Arkansas, now-a-days? The chances are that you don't, for there hasn't been very much news. You were reading the Knebel news quite frequently, though, two or three years ago, and a short item in The Union yesterday may have refreshed your memory about it. Miss Pearl Pugsley of Knebel got married last Tuesday, the item set forth.

Miss Pugsley powdered her nose, two or three years ago, and all the fuss arose from that. Maybe she still powders it, but ; that time she was a lass in high school and her action was taken as a direct infraction of the laws of the Medes and Persians who ruled over Knebel high school. The authorities frowned upon Miss Pugsley's nose—and "fired" Miss Pugsley.

Thereupon, Pearl and her parents began a legal fight upon the school board of Knebel. The newspapers—horrid of them—became acquainted with the facts and published them. The United States of America lined up in opposing factions, and there was a flurry of interviews and giving in interviews. Some authorities branded Pearl Pugsley's powder-puff activities as nothing short of incipient Bolshevism, and pointed with alarm to the inroads of radical doctrine among innocent school children. Others held up the school board action as an infringement of Pearl's constitutional rights and a bureaucratic violation of personal liberty.

The pro and con raged until about the time the Einstein theory was unloosed—or was it some other sensation—and was then duly supplanted by other affairs in the public mind. In the course of time the Pugsleys lost their legal fight. "Whether Pearl threw away her powder puff or her education was not made plain. The thing was forgotten.

And now Pearl is married. The powder puff and the constitutional liberties of high school children and the tyranny of school board autocracy has given way in her mind—we hope—to a consideration of more serious and more significant things. The heroine of the much advertised tempest in the teapot has forsaken the center stage that she once held for the humble and glorious career of an American wife and mother.

Pearl's powder puff was worth three columns in the Sunday supplements, but her marriage license is noted in eight lines of small type in the daily paper.

It's quite all right. Miss Pugsley of Knebel once typified the spirit of youth in revolt—an audacious, indomitable, childish, laughable and likable thing. In those days she deserved all the space she got. Revolt against dignified and petty authority is part of the spirit of youth, and the spirit of youth is worth reading about. Now she has taken up the things of prosaic adult life and become no whit different from all the rest of us.

Municipality's Growing Costs

Bakersfield Californian—A Fresno paper, discussing the growing cost of government in that city, consoles itself with the thought that while growth means more money for maintenance, it does not mean that the tax rate must necessarily be higher. That paper says that if a city grows, so do its sources of revenue, there being more individuals to pay personal and real property taxes, and more concerns to pay taxes and license fees.

There is no controverting the fact that growth means greater expense, but if the Fresno writer will compare the difference in the cost of government in Fresno now with the cost ten years ago and then compare populations for those two periods he will see how enormously expenditure has outstripped expansion.

And besides, it is not a fact that cost must keep pace with increase in population. The overhead expense should be very much the same in all of the larger counties of the state, and it would be so, if the same business methods were applied. The difference is the result in the different methods of handling public business.

But let us see how much injury is done to the state by lopping off the twelve million dollars that Governor Richardson is saving. If none, then the cities and counties will have some difficulty in explaining why they may not follow in the footsteps of the governor.

California Leads In Autos

Pasadena Star-News—California is the banner automobile state of the Union, and has a greater number of machines than any other part of the world. The one-millionth automobile license has been issued in this state. No other commonwealth equals this. New York has been surpassed by California—a proud distinction indeed.

There are good and sufficient reasons why California takes the premiership in ownership and use of automobiles. The two chief reasons are—mild climate and superb improved highways. The first is a permanent asset. The second is also an asset that will endure. California is committed to the cause of good roads. It has a splendid system of improved highways. It is adding to this constantly. The question of highway betterments is uppermost in this state the greater part of the time.

President Barrows of the University of California, in his last talk to the students as their president asked the graduating class to be humble in their life activities and advised that "Suspicion retards progress." How true that is. The worst citizens any community can have are the calamity howlers who are forevermore geyring the work of the people who are trying to do their duty and are constantly harboring suspicion of others.—Riverside Enterprise.

Kidnaping Would Be Popular

Sunshine and Shadow

The wisest thing we have read for months appears on a cigar company's calendar: "All sunshine makes a desert." Socrates would have nodded his head and started talking for a week.

Grass and trees need sunshine, plenty of it. But if they get too much, they become parched and die. Where there's nothing but sunshine, you find a desert.

We grumble at the rain and its clouds, but without it we would soon be living in a desert, without trees, grass, water or crops. And then we, too, would die.

Wise nature works by the Law of Contrasts—action and reaction. Sunshine and rain alternate. The change of seasons goes on forever. Otherwise, there'd be no growth, no life.

This applies to our personal lives, which are inexorably governed by natural laws.

We get an "off day" or a "run of bad luck." That corresponds to rains and clouds. Our sky is overcast. All looks gloomy, hopeless.

At such times, if we'd only pause to think, we'd realize that the clouds eventually will clear and the sun beam down out of a bright sky.

We crave continual happiness. But it's a good thing we don't have it. For constant happiness would soon become monotonous, we'd not be able to appreciate it, because we'd not have any contrast for comparison.

Perfect health would not bring real joy unless you had a sickness or pain to look back to and say: "Gosh, but I feel great today, compared with when I had a headache or the flu."

We cannot appreciate and enjoy prosperity unless we have had hard times for comparison.

Providence has a wise purpose in sending troubles to us. If we meet our troubles and annoyances philosophically, we find later that they were preparatory—to make us appreciate and enjoy the sunshine that follows the cloudy day. "All sunshine makes a desert."

Worth While Verse

THE MESSAGE

Dear heart, the skies are flowering fairly now,
And earth sends forth green messengers to meet
The long sun rays. The bloom is on the bough
And all the air is laden down with sweet.

Earth's voice is whispering o'er and o'er to you
The secret that I cannot tell you of,
The very skies are flowering into blue
Because they have the knowledge of my love.

So I would have these early messengers
Convey my heart's best song to you, my dear.
Earth's deepest pulse at that old music stirs,
Must all the glory die upon your ear?

Time to Smile

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.

A Manchester firm was doing some work at a local hospital and sent up one of its men. Later in the day the head of the firm phoned the hospital. A nurse answered:

"How's it getting along?" he asked.
The nurse replied, "Life is resting comfortably," thinking the voice inquired after a patient by the same name.
"Send him to the phone!" roared the head of the firm. "I didn't send him up there to rest but to work!"—Boston Globe.

"How did they know I gifted it to you for Christmas?"

Where Chinese Bandits Raided

"Lincheng, scene of the Chinese bandit raid, lies along the Tientsin-Pukow railway whose building was interrupted in 1900 by the Boxer uprising," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the national geographic society.

"The scene of the kidnapping of American passengers is 374 miles south of Tientsin, northern terminus of the line, where a party of Americans, including Herbert Hoover, were besieged during the famous Boxer outbreak.

"Lincheng is important commercially because it is the junction of a 19 mile branch railroad to Yihhsien, a colliery town, whence comes the coal which is distributed to all the towns and cities along the 626 miles of the Tientsin-Pukow line.

Economic Innovation
"This road was built as the result of a joint concession obtained by Great Britain and Germany in 1898. Its building was notable politically because it marked the first railway project in China where the construction and control were vested wholly with the Chinese government.

"Well equipped express trains, with sleeping and buffet cars, run daily each way between Tientsin and Pukow.

"South of Lincheng the train runs among hills which rise suddenly from the plains and shortly beyond the town of Han-chuang passengers suddenly discern the high embankment of the Grand canal, bordered by busy villages and flecked with white sailed junks laden with the rich products of fertile Shantung.

Peanuts and Hair Nets
"Peanuts and hair nets are two important products of Shantung. Coal and iron mines are worked with modern machinery. A passenger on this railway would harbor as little thought of bandits as he would in traversing similar wheat, tobacco and cotton fields, and truck gardens of our own country. The population is denser in this province than in our most densely populated state, Rhode Island. The climate has been compared to that of Maine.

"Begun about 15 years ago the hand manufacture of hair nets has attained remarkable proportions. The hair originates in China, is shipped to Europe and America to be chemically treated for 'decoloring,' is sent back to merchants in treaty ports and redistributed for net making among homes of the interior. Only recently has an attempt been made to prepare the hair in the province.

Confucius' Kin?
"The suggestion that the recent hold up was participated in by grandsons of Confucius, many times removed, may seem preposterous to admirers of the peaceful and urbane sage; yet it is probably literally true.

"Confucius was born in Kufu, barely 70 miles north of the scene of the bandit attack and he lies buried there, surrounded by many thousands of his descendants. The way in which this family or clan has persisted and multiplied deserves to rank as one of the biological wonders of the world. It is estimated that 70 per cent of the population over a large region around Kufu are descended from the great teacher.

The English cling to old ways. A bank in London that has just celebrated its 250th anniversary still maintains the old practice of having one member of the firm sleep every night in a bedroom that overlooks the peaceful garden in the rear of the building. ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 10—A DREADFUL MISTAKE.

"Where to, next?" asked Nancy, when she and Nick had helped the little Ragdolls to spring clean Mister Owl's apartment in Maple Tree Flats.

"Why, let's see; I think we'd better be cleaning Scramble Squirrel's summer apartment next," said Mister Tatters.

So all the Ragdolls gathered up their buckets and scrubbing brushes and mops and brooms and things and slid down the elevator shaft in the maple summer house to come to Mister Squirrel's front door.

Nancy went in first. Having their magical shoes the Ragdolls could wish themselves any size at all and now they were no larger than the Ragdolls.

"My, oh my! It's as dusty as a miller," cried Nancy, looking around. "Nick, you beat the carpets and I'll clean the pantry and Mister Tatters, you and the rest of the Ragdolls can scrub the walls and floors."

Very soon the apartment of Mister Squirrel was as clean as a bell. Dirt flew like magic and things grew as bright as new pennies.

"Come here and help me, Nick," called Nancy by and bye. "When Jack Frost chased Mister Squirrel off to Dreamland last fall he left
